Herbert Hints Special Session Of Assembly To Study Labor

BRITAIN, RUSSIA INVITED INTO U.S. OF EUROPE

Marshall Says His Plan for Cooperation Included Those Powers.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 12—Secretary of State Marshall said today that when he proposed European nations get together on an economic program he was thinking of Russia and Great Britain as well as other nations.

Marshall made the proposal in a speech at Harvard university a week ago. He was bombarded with questions about it at a news conference today, his first since the speech.

In his replies, the secretary of state disclosed that Winston Churchill's urging of a United States of Europe had influenced his developing the idea that the Europeans should work out their own economic recovery plans and that the United States should extend financial help to put them through.

No Estimate of Cost

He gave no estimate today of how much financial assistance might be required but other state department officials have been talking in terms of billions of dollars a year over the next several years.

A reporter told Marshall that when Churchill talked about a United States of Europe he was talking about political organization of the continent. He asked whether Marshall advocated that.

Economic Cooperation

The secretary replied that he and his associates were talking about some way of the Europeans getting together for a solution of their economic problems on which their political future depends.

Marshall reiterated what he said at Harvard—that the initiative in working out a program is entirely up to the Europeans as far as he is concerned. He said he had not formally heard from any European nation about his idea.

Pressed for an explanation of what greater plan might lie behind his Harvard speech he said that if he had some plan behind it he was not going to talk about it now.

Russia Expected To Block Big 3 Hungarian Inquiry

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 12—Diplomatic authorities freely predicted today that Russia will either reject outright or try to hamstring the American demand for a Big Three inquiry into the Communist garb in Hungary.

In either event, these officials declared, the United States in all probability will carry the case to the United Nations—perhaps in some manner design to focus the spotlight on Soviet activities all through the Balkans.

This country laid the foundation for such an appeal last night when it made public a blistering protect charging Moscow with "flagrant interference" in Hungarian affairs and demanding a three-power investigation of political conditions in Hungary "as a matter of urgency."

The note was sent to Brig. Gen. George H. Weems, American member of the Allied control commission in Budapest, for delivery to Lt. Gen. V. P. Sviridov, ranking Soviet member and acting chairman of the commission.

The document brought out the fact that on two previous occasions, March 5 and March 17, substantially the same request had been turned down by Sviridov. Hence authorities here said they see no reason to believe that it would get a different reception by the Russians this time.

The note itself said simply that unless there were an "adequate investigation" by an Anglo-American-Russian commission, the United States—as a signer of the Yalta declaration and the armistice with Hungary and as a member of the United Nations—would consider "further action".

Because this virtually put Russia on notice of an impending appeal to the UN some officials said the Soviets might agree formally to a three-power inquiry but then try to put roadblocks in the commission's path.

Swedish Relief Head In Austria Killed by Russ

By The Associated Press

VIENNA, June 12—Russian soldiers fired on a Swedish relief mission car last night and killed Arne Carlsson, Vienna chief of the Swedish Save-the-Children organization.

A Swedish legation spokesman here described the shooting as a deplorable accident, and said no protest would be lodged with the Russians in Vienna.

Nation's Weather Diet Includes Rain, Heat, Cold

The nation had a diversified weather diet today, ranging from snow in the Rockies and rain in the flooded midwest to unseasonable heat in the east.

The latest spring snow in the 75-year history of the Denver, Colo., weather bureau was reported there. Lander, Wyo., had six inches of snow and Cheyenne, Wyo., five with temperatures dropping to around 30 degrees. Mountain highways, however, were reported open to traffic.

The U. S. weather bureau in Chicago forecast continuing fairly heavy rain for much of the midwest which will add a new burden to the already flooded rivers.

Driver Hurt as Truck Backs Off Steep Ledge

Dale E. Eaches, 25, of 311 Arlington avenue, suffered injuries yesterday afternoon at the Ohio Blue Limestone Co. quarry on the Likens road, where he is employed. His dump truck backed off a steep ledge and overturned. He was taken in the Schaffner-Denzer ambulance to City hospital where X-ray was to be used to determine extent of his injuries which include fractured ribs and bruises. His condition was reported today as "fair." The truck cab was badly damaged.

AGREE ON RENT BILL

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 12—House-senate conferees have agreed on a bill extending rent controls through next Feb. 29 but permitting "voluntary" increases up to 15 per cent if landlords and tenants sign leases running through 1948.

ALL BABY MURDERS THEORIES EXPLORED

By The Associated Press

MASSILLON, O., June 12—Massillon Police Chief Stanley W. Switter said today he was "not bound by the accident theory" in the mysterious deaths of two baby girls in City hospital's pediatrics ward last Friday night.

"My mind is open and I am investigating all theories," he said.

The chief indicated his investigators are working on a new angle but would not elaborate.

A reporter asked the chief if all stories had been checked. Switter replied:

"I doubt all stories in this case until I can obtain proof."

Weary investigators still concentrated on the time element in the case and admitted their search for the killer had been narrowed by a report that no outsider had been present.

Dr. Persis Simmons, chief psychologist of the bureau of juvenile research at Columbus, said her questioning of three child patients at the hospital "ruled out the presence of outsiders last Friday night."

"If there had been strangers around that evening," said Dr. Simmons, "they would have made an impression on the children which would have remained."

Patrolman John Mohr of the Massillon police department and Stark County Detective Harry Grossglaus of Canton (formerly of Marion) both said Dr. Simmons' report, details of which were kept secret by Police Chief Stanley W. Switter, had narrowed the official investigation.

One investigator further explained renewed interest in the case's time-table by stating that Nurse Marian Silleck, who found eight-week-old Diane Jean Brand and 10-week-old Rosemary Morton dying in their cribs, now had grown "slightly uncertain" as to exact times. She had reported seeing the babies sleeping at 7:25 p. m. Friday and dying at 7:40 p. m.

TRUMAN ENDS CANADIAN TRIP

Turns Tourist Before Returning to Washington and Tax, Labor Headache.

By The Associated Press

OTTAWA, Ont., June 12—President Truman wound up his trip to Canada with a holiday from official business today before starting back to Washington tonight for vital decisions on labor and tax cut legislation.

Turning tourist for a day, the United States Chief Executive took his official staff for an outing and a view of the Canadian countryside around Ottawa.

The whole party planned to attend a luncheon at the exclusive Seigniory club, 45 miles away.

The holiday followed a busy day yesterday in which he brought a cheering parliament to its feet by declaring that the United States intends to help those nations that want to live in peace with their neighbors, without coercion or intimidation.

He went from this ovation to a luncheon at which he toasted parliament and reminded its members he had "never in my life had a more cordial reception."

The state visit ends tonight when he boards his 11-car special train at 10:05 p. m. for the trip back to Washington via Toronto, Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

The United States Chief Executive will view the famous falls from his private car when his train halts for 10 minutes at 8:05 a. m. Friday for an operational stop. He is due in Washington at 8:15 p. m. that night.

He will return to face a vital decision on whether to permit a four billion dollar tax cut voted by a Republican-controlled congress as well as action on legislation imposing new curbs on labor unions.

The deadline for vetoing the tax cut is Monday. Mr. Truman has said repeatedly that the time is not ripe for reducing taxes.

WAR III TALK CALLED CRIME AGAINST HUMANITY

UN Delegate Tells Red Cross International Group Needs Authority

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, June 12—Persons who speak "all-too-casually" of World War III are the "accessories of an unmitigated crime against humanity," says Brig. Gen. Carlos P. Romulo, permanent Philippines representative to the United Nations.

In an address before some 3,000 delegates to the American Red Cross' national convention, Gen. Romulo declared last night that the international situation "is both grievous and appalling in the extreme."

"To those who deplore the so-called inefficiency of the United Nations," he continued, "I reply: the United Nations can have only as much authority as the 55 nations that compose it are willing to give. If you would make it responsible for keeping the peace of the world, then you must clothe it with authority commensurate with so grave a responsibility."

Gen. Courtney H. Hodges, U. S. First Army commander, told Red Cross delegates that war "can happen again," and warned that "other men, elsewhere, holding control of a nation, or of many nations, may be contemplating the means at their disposal to accomplish exactly what the Nazi [illegible] failed to do."

FLOOD CONTROL CUTS "SMALL"

Indications Point to "Moderate" Slash in Water Projects' Funds.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 12—Money cuts for water projects, it is indicated by checks on congressional and Army engineer opinion, are expected to be relatively moderate in view of the Republican economy program.

Available information indicates that the house appropriations committee will recommend a reduction of 10 to 20 per cent below the $314,000,000 suggested by President Truman but there are those who guess at a higher percentage reduction.

Army engineers are not certain. One said privately the slash might be 50, 40, 30, 20 or 10 per cent. But it was hard to find anyone who believed it would be less than 10.

The committee will base its recommendations on a report of a subcommittee which spent weeks hearing scores of witnesses from all sections of the country and congressmen for and against the projects.

President Proposes Program

In his budget message covering the year beginning July 1, the President proposed $188,356,000 for general flood control, $24,000,000 for Mississippi valley flood control and $102,000,000 for rivers and harbors.

Tight-lipped members of the appropriations subcommittee refused to give any inkling about their plans. They neither denied nor affirmed guesses about the size of the appropriation.

But, Chairman Engel (R-Mich.) was heard to mention $175,000,000 for general flood control.

Move Gains Momentum

Meanwhile, a move for abandonment of some projects gained momentum.

Rep. McGregor (R-Ohio) told a reporter he favored killing all projects authorized more than two years ago. He has introduced a bill to kill Dillon dam in Ohio. Hearings on this will begin June 25.

McGregor contends that there is no sense continuing to appropriate money for old projects which would cost at least twice original estimates. There is a backlog of projects that would cost $3,600,000,000 on the basis of original calculations.

Before the war, the theory was that it was a good idea to authorize projects each year and thereby put them in line for future appropriations. Some congressmen contended that $300,000,000 should be spent annually to assure orderly utilization of the country's water resources as to flood control and navigation.

Truman Sets Limit

President Truman stipulated in his budget message the funds for next year should be spent only on projects already started by the Army engineers.

American Public Free of Last Coupon As Sugar Ration Ends

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 12—The last war-imposed coupon control over the American public vanished today, as sugar rationing for home, restaurant and hotel use ended at midnight.

After five years in which ration stamps meant more than money—when it came to meat, canned goods, shoes, tires, gasoline and a host of other things—individual Americans are free of coupon worries for the first time since Aprpil 28, 1942.

The last ration book can be thrown away.

However, sugar price controls remain. So does rationing of industrial sugar. But these two curbs are scheduled to end Oct. 31.

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson ordered the sugar ration end late yesterday, thus beating the Republican-controlled congress to the draw. The house had set for a vote today a bill calling for an immediate end to household sugar rationing.

A republican spokesman indicated congress would go ahead with the bill to make sure no return to controls could be ordered.

Anderson said he had acted because larger quantities of sugar are available. Asked by a reporter whether the pending congressional move influenced his action, he said: "A better way to put it would be: did congress hurry it because it knew this action was coming?"

Sugar was the first food rationed and the last freed from coupon control.

Anderson gave three specific reasons for his action: 1. The international emergency food council allotted the United States an extra 350,000 tons from the world sugar pool; 2. Cuba has a sugar surplus which is expected to ease demands from other parts of the world, and 3. Some 200,000 tons of Javanese sugar will be offered to world users immediately.

2nd Shovel Co. Pact Is Signed

2-Year Contract with Office Follows Similiar Shop Corps Agreement.

Substantial salary increases and liberalized vacation and seniority clauses were written into a two-year contract signed yesterday by Marion Power Shovel Company and Local 2627, United Steelworkers of America. The contract affects approximately 300 office workers employed by the company.

The salary clauses embody a reclassification of jobs resulting from a recent job evaluation study made jointly by the company and the union.

The office workers, in general, share the same liberalized vacation clauses written into the contract of Local 1949, United Steelworkers of America, last Friday for some 1,800 manufacturing employes of the company. They include three-week vacations for employes with 25 or more years of continuous service, and participation in the one-week plant shutdown to follow the July 4 holiday and weekend.

The office workers' contract was signed for the union by H. L. Wade, president; H. J. Blocksom, vice president; Edwin M. Schwaderer, financial secretary, and William Bell of Mansfield, field representative. John M. Demarest, vice president and works manager of Marion Power Shovel Company signed for the company.

In negotiations for the contract, the company was represented by W. W. Rhinesmith, assistant to the vice president and works manager; H. H. Douthitt, director of industrial relations, and Ralph W. Workman of the industrial relations staff. Mr. Workman assisted in the recent job evaluation program and participated in negotiations in which that program was discussed. The union was represented in negotiations by Mr. Bell, Mr. Wade, Mr. Blocksom, Mrs. Inez Elkenbary, Edwin L. Pennock and Robert C. Wolfinger.

The new contract is effective as of June 1 this year.

Babe Didrikson Zaharias Wins British Women's Open Golf Tilt

By The Associated Press

GULLANE, Scotland, June 12—Mrs. Babe Didrikson Zaharias of Denver, became the first American ever to win the British women's amateur golf title today by defeating Jacqueline Gordon of London, 5 and 4, in the 36-hole final.

Held even during the morning's 18 hole round while she was dressed in grey culottes and a yellow sweater, Mrs. Zaharias switched to her battle dress of blue corduroy slacks at the lunch hour and quickly won a five up advantage in the first six holes of the afternoon. She was out in 36 as compared to women's par of 37, blasting an eagle three on the 20th hole.

The Denver girl's triumph, fulfilled the worst fears of the British, who now do not retain a single one of their own golf titles on their side of the ocean. Only two weeks ago Willie Turnesa of New York City won their men's amateur crown in a final duel with Dick Chapman of Pinehurst, N. C.

CARL W. PARRATT DROWNING VICTIM

Former Marion Resident Meets Death at Columbus.

Carl W. Parratt, 21, of Columbus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarold W. Parratt of that city, former residents of Marion, drowned while swimming in Grandview Quarry yesterday evening. The body was recovered by firemen with grappling hooks after they and sheriff's deputies searched more than three hours. With him were his sister, Rita, 15, his brother, Steve, 12, brother-in-law, Homer Armstrong and two friends, Mary Solomon, 18, and Jack Bennett, 15, all of Columbus. About 25 other persons were at the quarry at the time.

Bennett told deputies that Parratt, who was unable to swim, was floating on an inner tube about 50 feet from shore and playfully pushed him under the water and that when he came up he saw Miss Solomon standing on the bank shouting that Parratt had disappeared beneath the surface. Bennett dived three times but was unable to find the young man. Armstrong ran to the engineers' building and called a fire department emergency squadron and deputies.

Approximately 100 persons gathered on the banks as firemen dragged the quarry and volunteer divers made a systematic search of the quarry. Swimmers said the water was about 18 feet deep.

Mr. Parratt was born in Marion and attended grade school here. His parents, who live at 529 West Fifth avenue, Columbus, lived on Blaine avenue here. He was graduated from the Richwood High school. He was employed at the Columbus Heating & Ventilating Co. and had gone to the quarry after leaving his work yesterday afternoon.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Donna Lou Wickersham Parratt and their six-months-old son, Craig W., his parents, brother and sister, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Stout of 176 Pennsylvania avenue and William Parratt of North Grand avenue, this city.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at the Egan & Ryan funeral home in Columbus and burial will be made in the Union cemetery there.

COACH THOMAS QUITS HARDING

Takes Post with Upper Arlington School; Successor Here Not Named.

Resignation of William E. Thomas as head football coach at Harding High school was received yesterday by Supt. E. E. Holt. He is accepting a position as assistant coach at Upper Arlington, a suburb of Columbus.

Thomas came to Marion in August last year under a two-year contract with the local board of education. He also was an instructor in physical education at Harding and coached in track. Before coming to Marion he was coach at Grandview Heights, also a suburb of Columbus, for two years and before that coached at Akron, N. Y., for eight years.

Unble to find suitable living quarters in Marion after taking his position here Thomas drove to and from Grandview Heights during the last year. His wife and their children continued to make their home in the Columbus suburb.

The board of eduction has no one in view for the position of coach, Supt. Holt said today.

Mr. Thomas also has resigned as director for the playground recreation program planned by the recreation committee for the summer. He will be in charge of the playground program at Upper Arlington before beginning his duties as assistant coach.

FIRE GUTS FACTORY, CINCINNATI CAR BARN

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, June 12—Fire of undetermined origin gutted a two-story factory building, spread to the Cincinnati street railway barns where nine cars were burned, and was brought under control four hours later only after 29 fire companies had been called into action.

Five firemen were injured, none seriously. A policeman also was hurt as the blaze threatened for a time to get out of control and sweep through the west end industrial area. Several tenement houses were in the path of the blaze.

Fire Chief Barney J. Houston estimated damage at $750,000.

The fire, he said, originated in a two-story building at 2225-29 Bogen street, occupied by the Edgar T. Ward Sons Co., a division of the Columbia Steel and Sheeting Co., the Summerhill Tubing Co., and several other organizations.

It spread to three other buildings in addition to the car barns, but the flames were extinguished before any great damage was done.

The car barns, a huge, two-story building extending from Spring Grove avenue back a block to Bogen street, were left in ruins.

The fire was discovered at 3:30 a. m. and high flames and heat brought hundreds of persons from their homes in the neighborhood.

WANTS DELAY TILL U.S. ACTS

Dodges Comment on Measures Stranded in Senate, but "Not Slamming Door."

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 12—Gov. Thos. J. Herbert said today that he was "not trying to close the doors on labor legislation" in the present session of the state legislature, and that he might, if necessary, call a special session to consider such matters.

The governor's remarks were made at a news conference when he was asked to comment on the status of labor bills in the closing week of the session.

The governor declined to comment directly on the situation whereby the Veach and Van Aken labor control measures are stranded in the senate, but said:

"My feeling on the Van Aken bill is that I wanted to delay all general labor legislation until we knew what the federal program would be."

Truman Element Cited

Herbert explained that while various labor measures had gone through congress, their outcome was in doubt because it was not known whether President Truman would sign or veto them.

He then added, "but I am not trying to close the doors on labor legislation."

The executive was asked whether he had thought of calling a special legislative session to consider labor bills.

"I will call a special session any time," he replied, "so long as labor does not live up to its responsibilities, just as I would call a special session to solve any other problem which might come up on which I thought we had inadequate laws on the subject."

Herbert declared he had made no commitments to any groups as to his intentions respecting any labor legislation which might come to him.

Calls for Referendum

He declined comment on the Veach measure, framed to prohibit the closed shop, saying it was "a purely legislative matter, and would not come before me anyway." The Veach bill calls for a constitutional referendum on the subject.

Gov. Herbert reiterated his support of the Ferguson bill prohibiting strikes by public employes.

Previously senate and house members had complained openly about a possible legislative deadlock on labor measures which developed unexpectedly with only three days of the session left.

Some representatives asserted no more senate bills would pass the house until the labor measures were brought to a vote in the upper chamber.

Such action would endanger passage of the Daniels-Cramer school bill now in conference committee, appropriations measures, and much other important vital legislation.

Herbert Voices Displeasure

The muddle stemmed from a three-hour caucus of Republican senators during which the governor voiced displeasure over the Van Aken bill.

"You can tear it up as far as I'm concerned," Herbert was reliably reported as telling caucus members who shuttled between his office and the upstairs meeting room.

Conferees were Senate Majority Leader Frank E. Whittemore (R-Summit) and Sens. Fred G. Reiners (R-Hamilton) and Roscoe R. Walcutt (R-Franklin). The reported strategy was to let the Veach resolution to ban the closed shop and the Van Aken bill to checkrein unions both die in the senate commerce and labor committee.

Chairman Walcutt said "I really don't know when the committee will meet," when asked about action on the bills. Otherwise he was mum.

One senator said he was "not too sure the bills wouldn't come out of committee," however.

Hope Held for County Corn Crop As Sunshine Returns

Marion county farmers are taking advantage of fair weather in what may be a final effort to plant corn in fields where continuous rains have curtailed preparation of the soil and planting. Dealers have been able to secure a later corn suited to growing seasons in sections to the north of this area, it was reported, and if conditions are favorable during the rest of the season farmers can count on a corn crop. The northern corn may differ a bit in size of ears, but can be put to practically the same uses as corn normally grown in the county.

What effect the corn yield may have on livestock production will be determined in the next few days when farmers see how many acres they will be able to plant. On some farms breeding of fall litters has been postponed pending the outcome of the farmers' race with nature.

Difficulties Encountered

As the final days of the planting season draw near farmers are experiencing difficulty in both preparing and planting fields in the short time left. The task is proving especially difficult on farms where only one tractor is available for all operations. On some larger farms two and three tractors work in one field at the same time, plowing, cultivating and planting. In nearby sections it was reported that owners of single machines are pooling their [illegible] in an effort to speed planting.

While the yield of field corn may yet prove sufficient, popcorn production will be only about 25 per cent of normal, according to a local grower. Popcorn requires a longer growing season than field corn, and the planting season has ended. Though a few fields were planted last week, the increased acreage will not materially affect the lowered yield. Another factor expected to contribute to a lower yield is that it has been impossible to prepare soil properly.

Soybeans Late

Soybean planting which usually follows corn planting may be so late that farmers will have to make other plans for some fields in which they had planned to put beans. If fields are covered with grass, it is quite possible that many farmers will make no attempt to put beans in this year.

Though some wheat in low spots was affected by wet weather the wheat crop in Marion county, along with that of the rest of the nation, promises to be a bountiful one. The harvest may come later than usual because wet weather and a cool growing season have retarded development to some extent, but this is not expected to hurt the yield a harvest time.

It has also been impossible to plant garden crops due to wet weather. However, it is still not too late to plant gardens with expectations of a harvest.

Marion county's oats crops will be about 25 per cent normal. Heavy rains which continued throughout the entire planting season reduced the acreage to a mere fraction of that normally set out here.

Corn Is Best Crop, Hardin Farmers Told

Special to The Star

KENTON, June 12—County Agent Boyce E. Bradford, speaking before the luncheon of the Kenton Chamber of Commerce, said that corn was still the best bet as a crop to be planted by Hardin county farmers. He estimated approximately 45 per cent of the corn was planted Tuesday.

Stressing the value of the corn crop, Mr. Bradford said its worth in Hardin county each year is about $14,000,000. In a normal year, he stated, about 65,000 acres are planted in corn with a yield of some 3,500,000 bushels or about 50 bushels per acre.

He said farmers should fertilize heavily and drill the corn in rather than check it, to aid in better and faster growing.

As for other crops, about 2,000 acres of sugar beets or 50 per cent of normal have been sown. About 60 per cent of the oats and only five per cent of the soybeans have been planted.

Mr. Bradford advised against planting a late crop of potatoes and said the tomato deadline is June 15.

Speaking of the weather, he said the rainfall has been no more than normal but that it had come at an unusual time of the year.

Model Plane Group Members in Contest

Marion Prop Busters club, sponsored by the Y's Men's club, attended and participated in a contest held June 8 at the McComb, O., airport near Findlay. It was sponsored by the Findlay Cooperative Modelers club.

Events of the day included gas model free flight, Class A, B, C, speed model Class A, B ,C, D, and stunt flying. Marion contestants made a good showing, according to a report. Robert Parshall flew a stunt ship, Jack Vale participated in the maneuvering ability event, Dick Blank took part in speed flying, and Fred Schatzinger and Bill Tsumpes in the free flight event.

A delegation of the Y's Men's club also attended to obtain information on how to handle a meet, as they are sponsoring a meet for the local club Sept. 14. Approximately 2,000 spectators were present and about 1,500 modelers took part. The Marion club will attend a meet June 15 at the new Springfield airport.

INDUSTRIAL SAFETY GROUP HEARS ACCIDENT REPORT

Five Firms Have Perfect Record During May.

Safety standings of Marion companies which listed no accidents during May were reported at a meeting of the Industrial Safety council Wednesday noon at Hotel Marion. Five companies with no-accident records were Colonial Poultry Farms, Fairfield Engineering Co., Houghton Sulky Co., McMillen Feed Mills, Inc., and Ohio Public Service Co.

Open discussion was held on the cause and treatment for hernia cases and it was noted that recently the number of this type of accident has seemingly increased. Discussion was also held on the liability in accidents to members of athletic teams sponsored by the various companies.

The next meeting will be Aug. 12. An invitation was received from Thad Kuenzli of the Huber Manufacturing Co. for council members to attend a demonstration of fire fighting and first aid work to be given by the Huber fire department Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN BUNDESEN, M.D.

Sciatica

The pain of sciatica is one of the most clearly defined and best recognized in the whole list of aches that flesh is heir to.

In other words, there is no guess-work about it. If you have sciatica you are going to know it by the heavy, gnawing sensation which usually starts in the lower part of the back and follows the course of the great sciatic nerve down the back of the thigh and leg to the foot.

Pressure reveals that there is tenderness, not only over the lower part of the back, but also in the muscles of the thigh and leg.

After the condition has continued for some time, these muscles may grow flabby and become smaller in size. There may also be some disturbances of the reflexes. The pain becomes worse when there is any movement which stretches the nerve. Thus, bending the hip with the knee straight is painful, so that a patient with sciatica usually sits with his knees slightly bent. In practically all cases, when the sciatica starts, there are pain and stiffness of the lower part of the spine, and many patients have suffered previous attacks of "lumbago."

When it comes to the cause of sciatica, the picture is not so clear. One of the common causes is what is known as protruded intervertebral disks. The intervertebral disks are pieces of cartilage which act as cushions between the small bones of the spine. When they protrude they are out of place. According to Dr. Arthur S. Bundell Bankart of England, in about three or four out of each hundred cases of sciatica, protusion of these disks is the cause.

In making a diagnosis of protruded disk, an X-ray of the spine is of course helpful. When the X-ray is taken, a substance known as iodized oil may be injected into the spinal canal to make the protruded disk more visible in the X-ray plate.

Another common cause of sciatica is arthritis of the lower part of the spine, that is, inflammation of the joints in this area. Dr. Bankart thinks that this is the most common cause of sciatica, particularly of the type which so frequently afflicts middle-aged and elderly persons.

In this condition, also, X-ray examination of the spine is helpful in making a diagnosis. In treating sciatica due to arthritis, rest in bed, perhaps the wearing of a cast to lessen movements of the joints, heat, massage and exercise all are of benefit.

Actual inflammation of the sciatica nerve may occur in occasional instances due to infection and other causes, and of course this will lead to the pain of sciatica. As a general rule, this is a mild condition and clears up with rest.

Yelps of Pain from Congress Heard Over Lobbying Pressure

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

[illegible]NGTON, June 12—May-[illegible] a lobbyist but don't [illegible]

[illegible] one if you try to influ-[illegible] congressman, by word [illegible] to vote for or against [illegible]

[illegible] your right. Plenty other [illegible] citizens do it all the time.

James Marlow

[illegible] con-[illegible] are [illegible] to know [illegible] people [illegible] king. [illegible] out once [illegible] there's a [illegible] pain in the [illegible] against [illegible] professional [illegible] either [illegible] the-open [illegible] so-out-in-[illegible]

Last year Rep. [illegible] Illinois [illegible], raged against them. [illegible] Senator Cain, Washington Republican, complains.

A lobby may be an individual [illegible] group wanting congressmen [illegible] something. Lobbies have swarmed through the capitol for years.

Pass Lobby Law

To get some of them on the record as lobbyists, congress last year passed a law which said:

A person whose main purpose is lobbying, must register. About 790 have registered as professional lobbyists.

But they're just the out-in-the-open kind. Being registered, they can walk in a congressman's office and say what their group is for.

But their kind of lobbying is pretty crude compared with the not-so-out-in-the-open lobbyists.

These are the boys who:

1. Have a regular job somewhere else but come to Washington to do a little lobbying for one special bill, and then go home again.

2. Work here but are too smooth to hang around the capitol. They try to do their lobbying elsewhere.

Cocktail Party Influence

For example: by throwing a cocktail party for a few friends and a few congressmen: or maybe be playing golf with a few congressmen.

Washington cocktail parties are endless. It's the cocktail-party-lobbying that irritates Senator Cain.

(Rep. Fred Bradley, Michigan Republican, died a couple of weeks ago after complaining of the strain that work and cocktail parties put on congressmen.)

One congressman, not Cain, talked of the cocktail party lobbying. He said:

"They're pretty slick. The host invites you through a mutual friend. He's here plugging for something. But you'll never hear it from him.

"He just wants to get friendly with you and get you to feel friendly toward him—and toward what you eventually find out he's plugging."

This same congressman said he thinks more lobbying is done on the golf links around Washington than anywhere else. How?

Pretty much the same quiet technique used at a cocktail party except that, on a golf course, there's better chance for friendship, and plain talk.

One congressman, talking about lobbying methods, said a member of President Truman's cabinet did a little in a quiet way.

The congressman said:

"This cabinet member came to see me and other members on a committee which was considering a bill he wanted passed.

"He just dropped in, said he had always wanted to know me, chatted 20 minutes, and never said what he had on his mind.

"If I didn't know the real reason for the visit, I would have felt overwhelmed by the honor."

THURSDAY, JUNE 12, 1947

"Spontaneous Incombustion"

THE SPREAD of work stoppages among miners producing coal for the steel industry is continuing. For lack of any better explanation, the cause can be described as "spontaneous incombustion."

Sometime, someone will get curious about so-called unauthorized work stoppages among organized miners and find out who authorized them. The reason given for this particular strike which is not a strike is that miners are staying away from work to protest the bill regulating union practices which concern the general welfare.

The public does not believe thousands of wage earners, all of them working in company-owned mines, are capable of getting together to pull a strike that isn't a strike, unless someone is directing them to do it. The public does not believe the cock-and-bull story that this work stoppage was unauthorized.

The public does not see any difference in principle between a work stoppage which is not a strike in June and a work stoppage which was not a strike last November. In that instance, the government took action which resulted in John L. Lewis and his union being found guilty of contempt of court. Its purpose was to keep production from being needlessly crippled by the high-handedness of one man and one union.

Under the Smith-Connally act, which doesn't expire until the end of this month, the government still can take action to keep production from being needlessly crippled by the high-handedness of one man and one union.

Speedy Trials Needed

CONVICTION of Gerhart Eisler didn't take long, once the case went before a federal jury. It deliberated only five minutes before finding him guilty of contempt of congress as a result of his refusal to testify last Feb. 6 before the house un-American activities committee.

Without further delay, the government also is proceeding against Howard Fast, novelist, and 15 other defendants on charge of conspiracy to withhold information from the same committee.

The justice department would do well to prosecute cases of this type with the utmost dispatch. They have been cluttering up court calendars for months, even years, with a morass of delays and technicalities. When Communists and fellow travelers are cited for contempt of congress, quick and vigorous prosecution is the only antidote for their contemptuous attitude and their arrogant duplicity.

Degrees, Honorary Style

THIS IS the season when June is bustin' out all over, with peonies to be plucked in gardens and most universities cultivating nice stands of honorary degrees. More than 1,500 such degrees will be awarded this year, June 17 being the peak of the season when Princeton puts out a bumper crop of 40. More than 50,000 have been awarded since Increase Mather in 1692 received the first, a doctorate of sacred theology from Harvard College, of which he was president.

This year civilian recipients are coming into their own again. Last year military recipients were in the majority. Herbert Hoover set an all-time high this week when he received his 57th honorary degree, doctor of civil law, from New York University. Other 1947 recipients include Bernard M. Baruch, Congressman Joseph W. Martin, Senator Warren R. Austin and Treasury Secretary John Snyder.

Most college presidents admit honorary degrees are granted principally to advertise a school. But perhaps the custom was more delicately analyzed by Dr. A. Lawrence Lowell, another Harvard president, who said, "Since the conferring of (honorary) degrees seems to increase the sum of human happiness, I am for it."

Copper's Getting Scarce

WHILE some industrialists ponder impending shortages of iron and oil, the United States is close to copper exhaustion.

C. Donald Dallas, of Revere Copper & Brass, predicts the crisis will be on us in 10 years. "It is startling, even shocking, to realize," he says, "that in the United States today there is no stockpile of copper, a material as essential to defense as iron or rubber or petroleum. You can't sail a sub or fly a plane without copper—and we haven't got it."

The demand for copper has been tremendous through the war era and continues so because of a huge backlog of peacetime needs. After the backlog is filled, some hope the demand will drop considerably, but even so our copper mines would not be good for more than 10 to 15 additional years.

Perhaps the day is near when lackluster zinc pennies again replace copper ones; or perhaps pennies will disappear altogether, playing, as they do, such a minor part in our present price system.

Kettering, the Philosopher

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Retirement Highlights His Progressive Ideas.

CLEVELAND, June 12—People in Ohio are talking about Charles Kettering's decision to retire. The nation will be paying tribute to one of the great of his time—a scientist who can see his special knowledge against a background of larger meaning.

Kettering is well remembered in Ashland county, O., where he worked for the Ashland Telephone company and married the choir singer. Loudonville, his birthplace in the same county, a pleasant town in the hills, gave him a big party a few months ago. Milan, Edison's birthplace, is 40 miles north and west of Loudonville.

On the many occasions where Kettering's attainment of three score and ten will be celebrated, he will no doubt have an opportunity to relate his many mechanical achievements to the broad issues of national life. Some of his achievements, such as the electric starter, are household knowledge. Not so well known but almost as important were his contributions to the perfection of the Diesel engine. His improvements in that engine made it possible to use it in railway transportation.

Obstacles To Progress

Mechanical invention, Kettering believes, is simple enough. It is a question of getting people to accept the obvious. Progress in the mechanical arts is measured by the extent to which people's minds are open. Habit and slavery to tradition are the enemies of achievement — there, as in our political and social life. I suppose he would add that the strength of these handicaps is what makes advancement in human relations so slow.

In mechanics the pioneer can demonstrate his idea on a small scale. He can attack those who scoff and doubt with the hard edge of fact. In mechanics and business there are simpler ways of bringing to bear the force of democratic choice than in politics.

Two weeks ago, in Chicago, Kettering illustrated this by contrasting the approaches to the public of the businessman and the politician.

Politicians like to think of themselves as the true masters of popular choice. But elections can come only after lengthy intervals, and choices are never clearly indicated.

An Every-day Job

The businessman meets his constituents every day. The boy who comes into the store is making choices. He wants this candy bar, and he does not want that candy bar. The great consuming public in normal times rules the automobile business — its designers, engineers, production experts and salesmen.

Some years ago, Kettering was quoted as having said that "science is a marble floor built over a dump." All it has done or can do can be wasted by foolish and prejudiced political decisions. Science moves from the uses of atomic power in war to its possibilities for peace. But political diplomacy is still thinking in terms of relative advantages in wars that are not yet here and, except for it its own failure, need never be here.

The Static Political View

It is a habit with politicians to belittle the efforts of scientists to step out of their specialties into the field of politics. A politician claims a monopoly of knowledge of human nature. But the side of human nature which the politician knows so well is that which is least promising. The politician counts on human nature to follow tradition and to see the shortest means to personal advantage. A scientist like Kettering appeals to the adventurous and the unconventional in human nature. He is the embodiment of change and possibility of progress. We shall do well to listen to the later chapters in Kettering's book of knowledge.

Radio Moscow has begun accepting paid advertising.

The song of the Volga Boatman has given way to the singing commercial.

Visitors from America should feel very much at home as the sympathetic voice on the radio inquires: "Comrades, do you suffer from stomach pains . . ."

But Russians may have difficulty learning to appreciate the finer aspects of commercial radio, such as the chant of the tobacco auctioneer and the fog-horn which intimates that, after all, one might offend.

Still, the claims of the kilocycle soap salesman can hardly seem extravagant to a people exposed to Red Army communiques during the war.

Discomfort or Disaster?

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP

WASHINGTON, June 12—Before very long, the salvation of Europe will be the dominant issue in American politics. A vast and costly program to halt further westward extensions of the Soviet sphere, by restoring Europe's economic and political health, is now in preparation at the state department. Since time is growing short, this program will almost certainly be offered at a special session of congress.

As one of the highest officials and ablest men in the government rather bleakly remarked, "We can choose between the discomfort of a special session and the total disaster of a European collapse." These are open secrets, now almost publicly admitted since Secretary Marshall's eloquently simple speech at Harvard and President Truman's White House statement. There is no longer any question whether the administration will permit disaster to occur by default. The question now is whether the administration's program for averting disaster will be approved by congress and the country.

At the moment, the outlook appears dark, since the country has not been warned of what impends abroad, while most members of congress seem to be dreamily convinced that this is 1920 instead of 1947. Yet there are certain hidden factors in the situation decidedly conducive to optimism.

Machinery Strengthened

First, the gradual impairment of the machinery of bi-partisan foreign policy (without which nothing can be done) has at last been firmly stopped by Secretary Marshall. The weakening of this vital machinery during the past months emphatically did not result from such trivial causes as hurt feelings and irritated vanities. On the contrary, it resulted from temporary violation of the root-principle of any truly bi-partisan policy—that shared responsibility for policy decisions is only the end product of continuous communication of information and consultation as to programs in the period when the policy decisions are being taken. The recent almost total absence of communication and consultation between the administration and congressional leaders is now a thing of the past, by Secretary Marshall's wise initiative.

Recently, in fact, Secretary Marshall invited the Republican leader for foreign affairs, Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, of Michigan, to spend a long afternoon with him at Blair House. He had perhaps deferred doing so until he had all the facts in hand. At any rate, he now laid all the facts upon the table, without seeking to conceal their grave implications. A long and extremely frank discussion ensued.

Cooperation Restored

Vandenberg gave no commitments, either as to a reconstruction program in general, or as to the special session matter in particular. But the atmosphere of bi-partisan cooperation was fully restored, as Vandenberg was himself careful to mark by going out of his way to offer glowing praise to Secretary Marshall the other day on the senate floor. And with this atmosphere once again present, the stage is set for the subsequent consultations, not only with Vandenberg but with other leaders of the senate and house, at which great issues of national interest—indeed, of national survival—must be discussed without regard to petty politics. This in itself is a deeply hopeful development, although the rapid conversion of the congress from its present mood most certainly cannot be looked for.

Another hopeful sign is the manner in which the administration program is being prepared. For 150 years, the foreign relations of the United States have consisted of a series of local, generally temporary and often unrelated expedients. The state department was so devoid of machinery for fitting all its facts together into one broad picture that the rapid onset of a world economic and monetary crisis was only realized three months or so ago. It happened half by accident, when a junior official insisted that the economic staffs prepare consolidated balance sheets of Europe's and the world's irreducible needs for American products and ability to pay for these requirements in dollars. The balance sheets, reluctantly put together, caused downright consternation.

New Safeguard Provided

Secretary Marshall has moved to prevent recurrences of this sort of mishap by establishing the departmental planning section, under George Kennan. It is in this section that all the data from the economists and political officers will be fitted into an overall program. The process is going on now. Furthermore, the program is not being prepared without reference to ability of the United States to foot the bill, which will inevitably run into many billions of dollars. Instead, an American balance sheet is also in preparation, and the program will be fitted into it. In addition, invaluable experience has been brought to the task of preparing both balance sheet and program by Under Secretary of State Robert A. Lovett. Long an expert in monetary problems, he is understood to have foreseen the coming crisis while still a private individual, and to have prepared on his own hook a study of what might be done. His good judgment may be gauged both from the reported conclusion of this study, that the immediate need was for about $5 billions a year, or very near the official figure, as well as from his known, realistic opposition to extending aid abroad in the form of irrepayable, trouble - causing loans rather than straight, honest grants.

Finally, this careful work of preparations is already well advanced, as must be obvious from the frankness with which Secretary Marshall and President Truman have spoken.

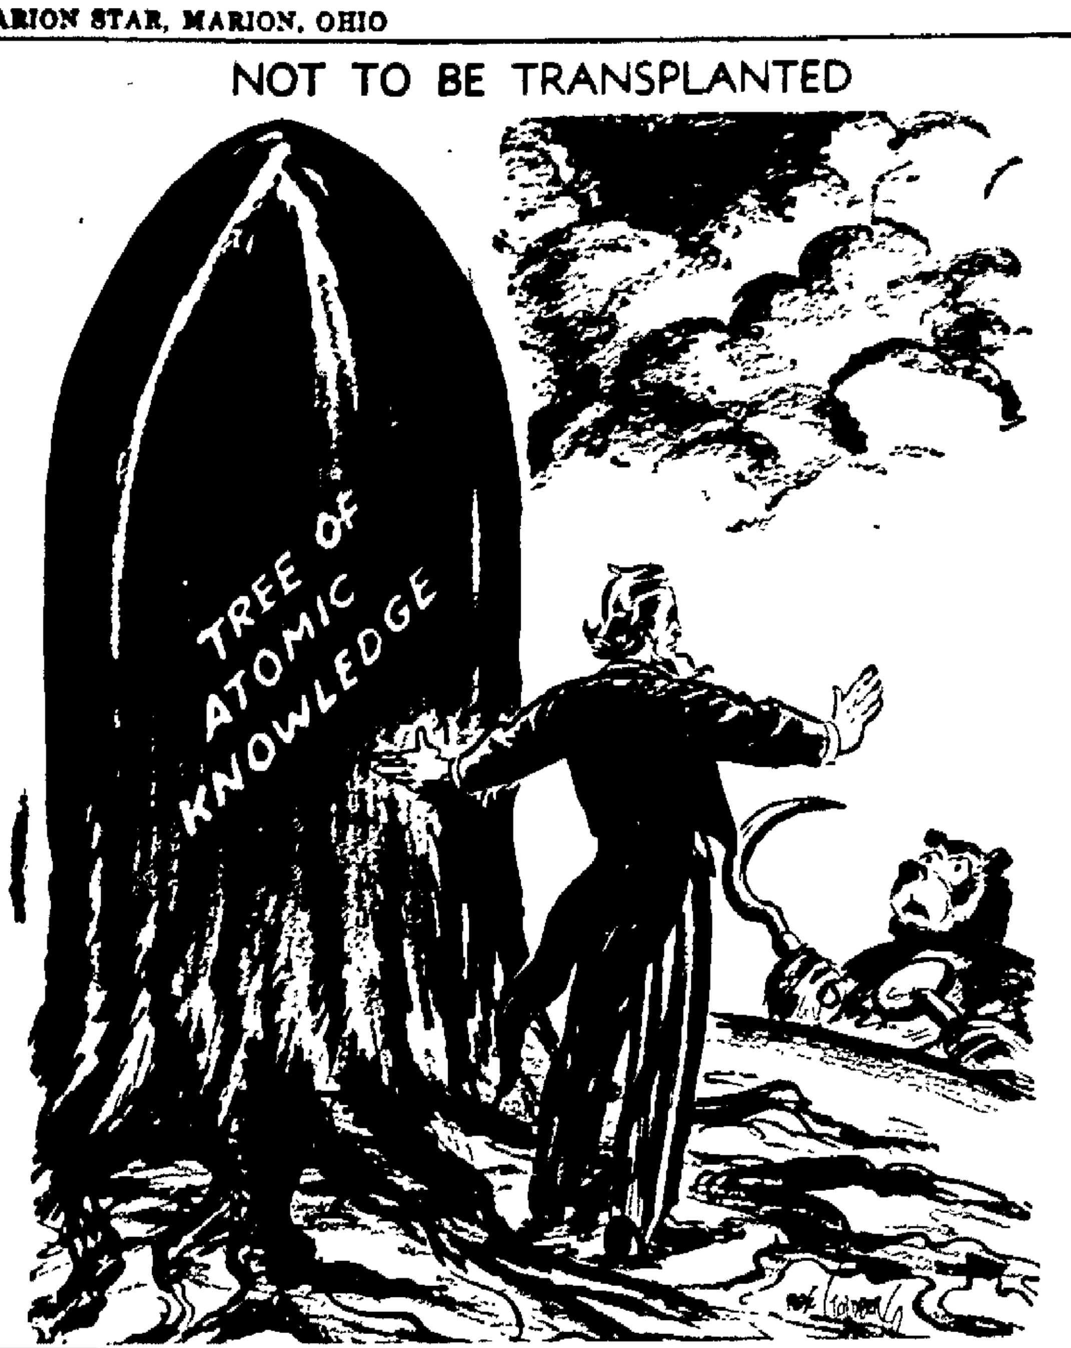
NOT TO BE TRANSPLANTED



From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Saturday, June 12, 1937.

Eight of the Soviet union's highest military leaders were doomed to the firing squad for treasonable activity against the red army they headed.

Residential, commercial and industrial construction in Marion for the first five months of the year had boomed more than 600 per cent, according to an Ohio survey completed by The Associated Press.

Mrs. Fanny H. Benson, secretary-treasurer of Marion Local No. 531, AFL, left for Louisville, Ky. to attend the forty-second annual convention of the American Federation of Musicians.

Union county's oldest citizen, Mrs. Margaret Ann Owen, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jennie Rutan.

Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Todd of Galion returned from a 30,000-mile trip which took them through Africa.

Mrs. L. K. McGinnis of East Center street entertained at bridge complimenting Miss Mary Margaret O'Donnell, who was to leave for Mexico to attend the annual convention of the International Altrusa club.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Sunday, June 12, 1927.

Dr. Louis H. Britton, 47, for 20 years a practicing physician at Claridon, died of apoplexy while sitting at the wheel of his automobile in the garage at his home.

The Marion Athletcis defeated the Detroit Clowns in a baseball game at Lincoln park 5-0. Main, pitching for Marion, let the Clowns down with two hits. Bacon, Marion second baseman, hit a home run.

Judge Charles L. Justice of Marion, president of the State Elks' association, gave the principal address at unveiling of a statue of President Harding at Baughman's park near Newark. A crowd of more than 10,000, including a delegation of Elks from Marion, witnessed the unveiling. The statue, approximately 18 feet high, was carved from sandstone, the work being done by Mr. Baughman, an amateur sculptor, out of stone quarried from his own land and presented by him to the Elks lodge at Newark.

May Be Different in Year

By WALTER LIPPMANN

IN THE argument about prices, which has been cooked up to celebrate the end of the legislative session and the opening of the presidential campaign, both President Truman and Senator Taft took the same main point for granted; they assumed that a year hence the country's chief interest will be in high prices, and who caused them.

Mr. Truman would, of course, like to blame them on Mr. Taft and Mr. Taft would like to blame them on Mr. Truman.

But it would be interesting to know what they will be saying next year if the main point as the election comes along is no longer high prices and the high cost of living but falling prices, unsold surpluses and unemployment.

This is not an idle question. For externally and internally there are powerful deflationary forces in operation which are of great significance to all who must look ahead and prepare for the future.

It is well known that Stalin, witness his interview with Harold Stassen, is extraordinarily interested in the chances of an American deflationary slump. But there are others besides Stalin. Just recently "The Economist" of London, which is very close indeed to the mainsprings of British governmental and private finance, was discussing the problem which Under-secretary Acheson broached in his Mississippi speech and Secretary Marshall at Harvard—the problem of the balance of payments, and the impending shortage of dollars as the American credit is exhausted.

Sees Aid in Future

"The balancing of the British accounts," it said, "will some day be powerfully assisted by a turn in the world conjuncture. It has become a truism to say that the whole world is now a seller's market; but it is perhaps not fully realized how much this affects the British economy. There is every reason to expect before long a fall in the world prices of primary products — especially of foodstuffs, but also of many raw materials—that will be second in sharpness only to those of 1921 and 1931.

"Not only will Britain gain in relative prices but there will also be a great gain in the availability of supplies. This will not make low costs and high quality of British export goods, or aggressive salesmanship in disposing of them, any less necessary. But it will bring the solution of the problem of the balance of payments well within the range of possibility."

In saying "that there is every reason to expect before long a fall in the world prices of primary products," "The Economist" does not say that it expects this fall of prices next year. In fact it implies that the big readjustment may not come for two or three years. The British crisis, it says, "will be surmounted before the 1950's are far advanced."

Dollar Resources Dipping

Nevertheless by next year, at the present rate of expenditure, the exhaustion of Britain's capacity to pay in dollars will be near at hand. The same will be true of almost all our customers. For the outer world as a whole is now incurring a deficit of one billion dollars a month. It is covering that deficit with loans, credits and gifts from this country and it is using up its remaining gold and dollar balances at the rate of nearly five billions a year.

Quite clearly, this cannot go on much beyond next year unless we supply new funds to keep it going. If we do not, our exports will be cut at least in half. This will be a powerful deflationary event. It would certainly cause not only untold misery in Europe but would go a long way toward causing that fall in the world prices of primary products which "The Economist" is predicting.

There are also powerful deflationary forces in operation here at home which, despite offsetting forces such as the expansion of real estate mortgages and personal loans and consumer credit, are likely in the end to prevail. Much of the discussion of the federal budget obscures the magnitude of the deflationary impact of the government because for technical accounting reasons the budget figures of expenditures, receipts and surplus do not tell the significant story.

Analysis by Bank

As the monthly letter of the National City Bank of New York says: "The government's net drain on spending power"—its deflationary influence on the national economy—"has been a good deal heavier than is indicated by the amount of the budget surplus. This comes about, first, because cash income is regularly much greater than 'net receipts' under the budget and, secondly, because actual cash outgo is frequently less than total budget expenditures."

Thus in the first four months of this year (1947) the government cash income exceeded its cash outgo by 4.4 billions, which is at the rate of 13 billions a year.

When we remember that, during the war, the government inflated spending power by 35 to 50 billions each year, and that now it is deflating spending power at the rate of 13 billions, there can be little doubt that the main influence is deflationary, and that sooner or later we shall see its effect.

These things are all very complicated but, as we look ahead to next winter it will be useful to bear these two great facts in mind. We have an export surplus of a billion dollars a month, which will come very near to being cut off entirely within a year unless new funds are provided. And we have in our government finance a net drain on spending power of another billion dollars a month.

If you add the two together, assuming that congress refused to support Secretary Marshall's proposals, we shall be operating our economy with a deflation of about 25 billions a year acting upon prices, profits, and employment.

That is a lot of deflation, quite enough to produce conditions altogether different from those which Mr. Truman and Mr. Taft have been talking about.

Plane Flies 2,000 Miles With No Human Touching Controls

By The Associated Press

WILMINGTON, O., June 12—The push-button, symbol of modern [illegible], passed its biggest test [illegible]ment for the pilot of an airplane.

No member of its 10-man crew touched the controls of a huge C-54 transport yesterday during a 2,000-mile non-stop flight from Long Beach, Calif., to the Army Air Forces' all-weather flying center here.

Time for the flight, which army spokesmen said was the longest of its kind on record, was eight hours and 45 minutes.

The plane was flown, AAF engineers said, by a new "push-button" flight system developed as part of a program to beat the hazards of flying in bad weather.

Special instruments were pre-set for the take-off, to direct the plane on a course via Denver and Cincinnati, and set it down here.

Engineers said the system should not be confused with "drone" or remote control flight, explaining that some human control must be exercised in operation of a "drone" plane.

Capt. Thomas J. Wells of Orlando, Fla., project officer and safety pilot, reported the flight from the coast was uneventful. "Landing technique" still must be improved.

Other members of the crew were: Capt. James H. E. Toner, Butler, Pa.; First Lt. Stephen J. Mazurek, Jonesville, Mich., T/Sgt. Franklin Shaver, Mannington, W. Va.; T/Sgt. Welker McKee, Wooster, O.; Cpl. William Lewis, Paynesville, O.; George Johnson, project engineer of Xenia, O.; Carl Steineckert, instrument specialist, Columbus, O.; W. W. Downs, Wright Field, Dayton, gyroscope representative and James Anast, chief of the all-weather division's automatic-flight branch.

LAWYER SAYS CLEVELAND BOY'S DEATH ACCIDENTAL

Prosecution Claims Mother Deliberately Killed Feeble-Minded Son.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, June 12—Mrs. Rose Nagy attempted to take a loaded revolver from her feeble-minded son, Rudolph Sutoris, when the 14-year-old boy was wounded fatally last April 18 in a shooting that was "not a mercy killing," says Attorney Ezra Z. Shapiro.

The counsel for the 41-year-old woman yesterday described her third marriage to John Nagy as "one of endless misery—a hell," in opening testimony in the second degree murder trial of Mrs. Nagy in connection with her son's death.

Reporting that the mentally retarded boy often had played with a toy gun, Shapiro said Rudolph had taken the loaded revolver when his mother saw him. Fearing for her own life and the boy's, Shapiro added, she grappled for the gun and it exploded.

Presenting the prosecution's version of the shooting, Assistant Prosecutor Victor De Marco said Mrs. Nagy and Rudolph were alone in the Nagy home when she and the boy struggled over the weapon, causing it to explode.

After the first bullet struck the boy, said De Marco, "she shot again. * * * She shot five times."

EX-SENATOR MEAD ENTERS MAY TRIAL

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 12 —Justice Henry A. Schweinhaut granted today permission to the defense to call former Senator James M. Mead (D-NY) as a witness in the May-Garsson war fraud trial.

Defense counsel contends that Mead "withheld" evidence from the justice department which would be "beneficial to the defendants" in the case.

Mead is a former chairman of the senate war investigating committee which probed wartime connections of former Congressman Andrew J. May and munitions makers Henry and Murray Garsson.

May, wartime head of the house military committee, and the Garsson brothers are on trial on bribe conspiracy charges. May is accused of taking $55,000 from the Garssons for official favors.

Schweinhaut ruled that questioning of Mead would be limited.

Charles J. Margiotti, chief defense attorney, had asked permission to question Mead's "motives" in conducting the senate investigation of the Garsson operations last summer. Margiotti said the inquiry was prompted by Mead's "political motives," when Mead was campaigning for the New York governorship.

The court ruled, however, that Mead could not be questioned about any motives he may have had in conducting the investigation.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Here's to the Women-Folk!

There's a line at the heading of the Woman's Column in my paper that reads:

"Women through the years have stood Keepers of the flame . . ."

Pretty easy to see what it means; whether it's the flame on the hearth, or the candle in the window, or the feeling of warmth that surrounds a home.

It's the women who are guardians of the things we cherish about homelife—who are tolerant of ashes on the rug; the rings a glass of beer can leave on tables; or the comfortable but too-worn chair that we can't bear to throw away.

From where I sit, those little satisfactions become more and more important in this world of strife and change. Smoke rings curling from a mellow pipe; a glass of beer; a comfortable chair before the fire. And I'd like to salute the housewives—"keepers of the flame"—whose tolerance and understanding helps preserve them!

Kenyon, Roberts Vows Spoken In Church Wedding

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Miss Pearl Kenyon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kenyon of 419 Blaine avenue, and Thomas Roberts, son of Thomas J. Roberts of North Prospect street. Trinity Baptist church was the scene of the wedding Sunday afternoon, June 1. Two seven-branch candelabra tied with green foliage and flanked by baskets of white snapdragon and pink carnations, palms and fern, decorated the church, and pews for relatives of the couple were tied with white satin bows. Rev. J. B. Holloway, pastor, officiated for the double ring ceremony.

A program of nuptial music preceding the ceremony was played by Mrs. Cecil Davis at the organ. Her selections included "One Alone," Romberg; "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," Herbert; "My Hero," Straus; "At Dawning," Cadman; and "La Estrellita," Ponce. During the ceremony, she played "Love Sends a Little Gift of Roses," Openshaw, and the traditional wedding marches. Robert Somerlot sang "Because," D'Hardelot; "Always," Berlin; and "I Love You Truly," Bond.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Chester Kenyon of Findlay. She wore a gown of white slipper satin, fashioned with long tight sleeves and bodice with sweetheart neckline filled in with net, and large hoop skirt gathered to lay in scalloped folds and ending in a short train. Her long veil of bridal illusion was held with a halo of orange blossoms and was caught at the sides by sprays of the blossoms. For "something old" she wore a gold bracelet of a great aunt, Mrs. F. A. Schrote, her "something blue" was a blue linen handkerchief, and "borrowed" from her sister, Miss Helen Kenyon, was the white Bible which she carried, and on which was a corsage of white roses tied with satin ribbons with white snapdragon and bits of fern on the streamers.

Mrs. Lester Miller, another sister, was matron of honor. She wore a gown of pale pink with sweetheart neckline and puffed sleeves. Her shoulder-length veil of pink net was held by a matching band of pink satin bows and veiling. She wore short white gloves and carried a sheaf of white carnations with pink ribbon and bow. Miss Helen Kenyon, Mrs. Glenn Winters of Cleveland and Mrs. Max Coover of Springfield, also sisters of the bride, and Miss Donna Wolfe completed her group of attendants. Their gowns were made with full skirts and off the shoulder necklines. Mrs. Coover and Miss Kenyon wore pink and carried large colonial bouquets of white carnations with pink ribbon and bow, and Mrs. Winters and Miss Wolfe wore blue and carried large colonial bouquets of pink carnations with blue ribbons and bows. They wore single strands of pearls, short gloves and shoulder length veils.

Candles were lighted by Mrs. Carroll Winters, who was dressed in a yellow net gown with ribbon trim, and Mrs. Fred Harden who wore pink net trimmed with ribbon. Bandeaus of sweetpeas adorned their hair. Carol Ann Coover and Amy Jene Miller, nieces of the bride, sprinkled rose petals. Their gowns, one of orchid and one of yellow nylon, had sweetheart neckline, puffed sleeves and floor-length skirts. They carried baskets in colors matching, and white gloves, and halos of sweetpeas holding shoulder-length veils completed their costumes. Master Lester Miller, a nephew of the bride, was the ring bearer. He wore a black suit and carried a white satin pillow with pink bows.

Irvin Scott of Newark, nephew of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were Robert Ulery, Donald Gwinner, Carroll Winters and Terry Baker.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Kenyon chose an orchid dress with white accessories. Her corsage was of yellow roses. Miss Faye Roberts, sister of the bridegroom, wore an aqua print dress with white accessories and her corsage was of pink roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception for 100 relatives and friends was held at the home of the bride's parents. A three-tiered wedding cake in pink and white, the wedding colors, was decorated with a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. Phyllis Wallace of Jackson served, assisted by Mrs. Merle Parr and Mrs. Eldon Myers.

When the couple left on a wedding trip through the west, they planned to visit the bride's father and another sister, Mrs. Mildred Arendt, in Arizona. For her traveling costume Mrs. Roberts wore a melon-colored dress with white picture hat and accessories, a gold necklace and earrings, gift of the bridegroom, and the corsage she had carried for her wedding.

Mrs. Roberts is a graduate of Harding High school and is employed in the office of the Osgood Co. Her husband attended Harding High school and served three years in the armed forces. He is employed with the Parish dairy.

Saturday evening, a dinner was held at the Kenyon home for the wedding party, at which time the attendants were presented their gifts, pearl horseshoe pins and handkerchiefs for the women and leather billfolds for the men.

Kenyon of Findlay, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Floridan Who Lost Bag with $19,000 Will Get It Back

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, June 12 — A brown overnight bag containing $19,000 in bills found in the greater Cleveland airport restaurant Tuesday night belongs to Nat Weiner, 46-year-old manager of a Miami, Fla., hotel (Tropics), who must make a return trip to the Queen City to claim the money—his life savings.

Contacted in Miami last night, Weiner said he brought the money to Cincinnati in anticipation of a business deal and left the bag in the restaurant as he and his wife rushed out to board a Delta airliner ready to take off for Atlanta.

The bag was found by Betty Baker, a waitress, who gave it to restaurant manager Martin W. Hess, who said he turned it over to the federal bureau of investigation here.

The FBI would not comment but Weiner furnished these details:

The couple missed the money just as the plane was taking off On reaching Atlanta, the first stop, he telephoned the airport—located in nearby Boone county, Kentucky — and was told the money had not been found

He did not learn the money had been found until yesterday afternoon when his mother-in-law telephoned from Newport, Ky to advise the FBI had inquired about what luggage he carried when he left.

Still later, he was informed the FBI had the money but he would have to return to Cincinnati to get it back

Weiner said he did not trust banks had carried his money with him for 10 or 15 years "But I seldom had that much"

Marketing, Not Output Called Farmers' Problem

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 12—The Ohio farmer's problem is not how to raise more food but how best to market it, L. L. Rummell, new dean of the Ohio State university college of agriculture, told the annual conference of vocational agriculture teachers today.

Rummell noted that farm production rose 35 per cent during the war despite shortages of machinery and labor and added:

"While all these gains must be maintained, the accent in future progress in experiment and instruction can logically be on marketing. xxx From high school to college we can well stress farm business management, efficient distribution, and studies of consumer demands to supply these home markets quality foods at economical costs"

Other speakers at today's sessions included E. J. Bath, executive secretary of the state agriculture department and state fair manager, and Bryan P. Sandles, former fair manager.

STUDY UNFREEZING OF LIQUOR PERMITS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 12—The state liquor board considered today whether to finish melting the war-time freeze on issuance of new retail liquor permits now that the whisky shortage has ended.

More than 60 persons attended a hearing yesterday, but only two opposed a proposal to repeal the board regulation made in August, 1942 Fifteen spoke in favor of removing the last obstacle to opening a cafe or night club Acting Chairman Frank M Krebs promised a decision in a few days, possibly by the first of next week

The board modified the regulation in 1945 to unfreeze beer, wine and private club permits, leaving only whisky and night club licenses still unfrozen

Two Ironton permit holders, Leo J. Dunworth and J E McNeer, told the board that new permits in their city might stimulate a dry campaign to vote in local option next November They added that the city has enough liquor places already

During the first half of 1946, U S automobile production was about one-third of the first half of 1941

1,824 Amputees Eligible For Autos in 3 States

The Veterans Administration has authorized 1,824 disabled veterans in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky to purchase vehicles at government expense under the "autos for amputees" program. The total includes 792 in Ohio.

VA said such claims should be filed no later than June 15, inasmuch as June 30 is the deadline for authorizing purchase of vehicles by amputees.

The program to furnish automobiles or other conveyances to World War II veterans who lost, or lost the use of, one or both legs, became effective last September. The cost of each vehicle is limited to $1,600, including any special equipment or attachments necessary to enable the veteran to operate it.

Disabled Student Vets May Get Medical Care

The Veterans Administration will provide necessary medical treatment or hospitalization to enable disabled veterans to continue their education or on-job training courses.

Officials at the VA's Ohio-Michigan Branch Office in Columbus (O) said disabled veterans who are in schools or job-training courses under provisions of Public Law (Vocational Rehabilitation Act) are entitled to necessary medical care at government expense, regardless of whether the disease or injury is a result of their military or naval service.

Veterans enrolled under the GI Bill are entitled to medical care at government expense only for service-connected disabilities.

If a disabled veteran-trainee is injured, suffers a relapse, or if his disability is further aggravated during his period of training and is not the result of his own willful misconduct, he may be granted an increase in the rate of his disability compensation, VA officials said.

War Dept. Seeks Current Address of Next-of-Kin

The war department has informed the Veterans Administration that survivors of men and women who died while serving in the Army during World War II should make certain that two of its agencies have their present address.

Many instances have been found where addresses of next-of-kin in the files of the casualty section of the adjutant general's office and the memorial division of Office of Quartermaster General are incorrect. Letters sent to these next-of-kin by the two offices have been returned, marked: 'Moved: Left no forwarding address." Next-of-kin who have moved since last notifying these offices of their addresses are asked to mail a postcard or letter to each office, stating in effect

"I am next-of-kin to (name) (grade) (serial number). My former address was (street, city, state). My present address is (street, city, state)." The communications should be mailed to.

Majority of U. S. Vets Served During WW II

Seven out of every nine living veterans of the nation's last five wars served in World War II, according to the latest tabulation released by the Veterans Administration.

The table reported an estimated total of 18,188,000 living veterans in May. Of this number, 14,267,000 served in World War II, and the remainder, 3,921,000, in the four prior wars and in the peacetime forces.

Many veterans live outside the United States. More than 100,000 live in Alaska, the Canal Zone, Hawaii and Puerto Rico. Some 50,000 live in foreign countries, exclusive of the Philippines, where 18,000 are reported.

5 Countries Popular For Vet Study Abroad

Eight out of every ten students studying abroad under the GI Bill are enrolled in educational institutions in five countries, according to the Veterans Administration.

VA said the five countries are Canada, Mexico, Switzerland, France and England.

Recent VA statistics show 1,368 U. S. veterans enrolled in 219 foreign schools in 34 different countries.

Questions and Answers

Q. Are any of the cemeteries operated by Veterans Administration leased from private owners?

A. No. VA has no such leases.

Q. Can I specify in my GI insurance policy that in event my wife remarried after my death, payment of the balance of insurance benefits shall be made to my mother?

A. No.

Q. Who is entitled to the last compensation or pension check due a veteran in event of his death?

A. The check received at the time of the veteran's death becomes part of his estate. The person who bears the expense of the last sickness may apply for the burial award of $150.

Q. Does the veteran have to pay any charges or fees to get a guaranteed loan?

A. The veteran pays no commissions, brokerage fees or other charges for obtaining a guarantee. Fees usually paid by the borrower, such as appraisal, title search, recording, etc., may be charged against the veteran.

Q. I am a World War I veteran and would like to know if I can get a guarantee loan under provisions of the GI Bill?

A. No. Benefits of the act are for World War I veterans only.

Q. I was discharged from the Army in May, 1945. Are readjustment allowances still available to me?

A. Yes, readjustment allowances are available to an eligible veteran until two years after the date of his discharge or release, or until two years after the official end of the war, whichever is later.

Q. I am a World War II veteran and have been ill for five months. At the end of my sixth months of total disability, will I have to continue paying my GI insurance premiums or is a waiver granted automatically?

A. No automatic waiver of premiums is ever granted. A veteran must be disabled for six months before he may apply for a waiver of premiums. You are entitled to file a claim for refund of those premiums you paid from the date on which the waiver becomes effective.

MARION YOUTHS HELD AT UPPER SANDUSKY

Boys Questioned in Connection with Auto Theft.

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, June 12—Wyandot county authorities were holding two teen-age Marion youths today after they were arrested at Mansfield Wednesday as passengers in an automobile allegedly stolen by a 16-year-old Upper Sandusky youth. Another boy from New York state was in the automobile and is being held at Wyandot county jail.

The automobile was stolen from the Karg Motor sales garage at Mansfield Tuesday morning, according to the Wyandot county sheriff's office. Entrance was gained to the garage by prying off temporary doors of the recently constructed building. The Upper Sandusky youth accused of stealing the automobile had previously served a year at the Boys' Industrial school at Lancaster and was more recently sent to the Bureau of Juvenile Research at Columbus.

According to reports from authorities, the youth escaped early Sunday morning from the Wyandot county jail, stole a truck from Upper Sandusky, later abandoning it on Route 30 south just east of Upper Sandusky. He returned to town, broke into O'Donnell's cafe, stole approximately $150 from the cash register which he forced open, pilfered two parked cars, then stole a parked car. This car was found in the ditch just west of the intersection of Routes 182 and 30 north, near Point Pleasant.

A third car was stolen from Nevada at 10:30 a. m. Sunday and driven until Monday night when it was abandoned in Upper Sandusky. The car in which he was apprehended was the fourth stolen since his escape. State patrolmen were informed of his being seen in Morral, Upper, and Bucyrus and Tuesday night he was identified trying to register at a Marion hotel but eluded officers and headed toward Galion. He was spotted there, and Mansfield patrolmen were notified. He was arrested at 3 a. m. Wednesday on the outskirts of Mansfield.

Charges have not yet been filed against the youth.

Other boys in the car were passengers who had been picked up Tuesday night at 6 o'clock, the sheriff's office at Wyandot said. The Marion boys were picked up here and the third boy was a hitch hiker.

AUSTRIAN ACQUITTED OF TREASON CHARGES

By The Associated Press

VIENNA, June 12—A Vienna peoples court today acquitted Dr. Guido Schmidt, the Austrian foreign minister before anschluss, of high treason charges.

The five-man court ruled that charges accusing Schmidt of betraying Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg and engineering the 1938 Austrian link with Germany to advance his own interests had not been proven.

"It is not the place of this court to determine the rightness or wrongness of your pre-anschluss foreign policy," the court said. "Our task here is to determine the guilt or innocence of this one man."

The court said Schmidt never had been a member of the Nazi party and that he had not profited personally by anschluss.

Schmidt first became state secretary for foreign affairs in the Schuschnigg cabinet in November, 1936. Later, however, Schuschnigg took over the post himself and held it until Feb. 15, 1938, when he relinquished it to Schmidt after Adolf Hitler's bloodless coup in Austria.

The Austrian provisional government arrested Schmidt on Dec. 5, 1945, the day after he was accused as a war criminal.

WAGE INCREASE ENDS FRENCH RAIL STRIKE

By The Associated Press

PARIS, June 12 — The French government granted French railroad workers salary boosts today, thus ending a six-day national rail strike, the worst transportation tieup in the country's history.

The railroad workers union ordered its members back to work after an all-night series of conferences at which agreement was reached for settling the work stoppage.

Under the agreement, the government promised to increase rail workers' salaries for the last half of 1947 by a total of 9,900,000,000 francs (about $83,000,000). The figure represented a compromise between union demands for 12,000,000,000 francs and a government offer of 8,000,000,000.

Railroad management also agreed to push a reclassification survey which would be put into effect Jan. 1, 1948, entailing other salary increases for workers advanced in classification, and promised improved working conditions.

Although the order for the trains to start running went out at 4:45 a. m., officials said they expected it would be two or three days before service was back to normal.

BULGARIA EXPELLS OPPOSITION PARTY

By The Associated Press

SOFIA, BULGARIA, June 12—The Bulgarian grand national assembly last night expelled 23 legislators of the Petkov Agrarian party members, who formed the chief opposition to the Communist-dominated Fatherland Front bloc.

The assembly voted that the 23 had resigned voluntarily, but all 23 in a final statement to parliament, contended that "we do not resign."

Nikola Petkov, now under arrest on charges of plotting against the state, is the party's general secretary. The assembly adopted a resolution saying that the Agrarians, "owing to voluntary resignation, have lost prestige and are no longer members of the grand national assembly."

The assembly voted that the 23 members would be succeeded by an equal number of opposition representatives whose names had appeared in the election lists of October, 1946.

an executive secretary to serve the board and act as state fair manager.

"Frozen" in Job

Edwin J. Bath, former Farm Bureau lobbyist, would be "frozen" into the executive secretaryship. His salary is $8,000 annually, $800 having been trimmed out by the state auditor on grounds he was not entitled to it.

The house also refused by a vote of 193 to 14 to concur in senate amendments to the general appropriations bill and it headed for a conference committee.

The senate passed bills to prohibit youths under 16 from working in manufacturing or mechanical establishments, and to permit sale of abandoned fish hatcheries in Cuyahoga, Miami, Crawford, Defiance, Fairfield and Madison counties.

Passed in the house were bills to provide for a state-wide hospital survey, designate route 21 the "83rd Division Memorial Highway," make all permits held by a single liquor retailer expire on the same date, and appropriate $257,193 for sundry claims, those against the state for less than $50.

The house taxation committee ditched another urban redevelopment measure. The proposal got 10 favorable and 8 unfavorable votes with 12 yes ballots needed to be recommended for passage. A house bill previously met a similar fate.

The house defeated a senate bill to allow school boards to employ retired teachers for two more years.

Among measures on the house calendar for today were those to grant pensions to returing judges and to take quail off the "songbird" list and permit hunters to shoot them

Changes Attire

It was during this tour over the trap infested East Lothian course, hard by the Firth of Forth, that the babe was attired in culottes —a pants-like dress of grey flannel—and wore a yellow sweater over her white blouse because her lucky sky-blue slacks were "filthy."

During the lunch hours, which was extended 15 minutes to give the contestants more rest, she changed to slacks again and immediately won five of the first six holes

Miss Gordon, playing conservatively but determinedly during the morning, seemed to falter after the first two holes of the final 18 The course was packed for the final two rounds and the word heard most often was "phenomenal" as the Scots watched the second American ever to gain the payoff round grab the crown

Ex-Marionite Persuaded "Babe" To Turn Golf Pro

George T. Emerson, former Marion man, is recognized as deserving primary credit for causing Mrs. Babe Didrikson Zaharias to leave amateur ranks and become a professional.

Emerson, then a representative of a large national advertising concern serving the Dodge Auto company, conceived the idea of offering Miss Didrikson an attractive contract to appear in promotional advertising for the Dodge company.

Going to Miss Didrikson's home in Texas he made her the offer and after long argument persuaded her to accept.

Later in an advertising tour across the country for Dodge, accompanied by her sister and Mr. Emerson, Miss Didrikson visited in Marion. They were guests at Mr. Emerson's parents' home on West Center street.

In an interview with a Star reporter at that time, Miss Didrikson said that she had just started to play golf and might attempt to make it one of her major sports activities sometime in the future.

Mr. Emerson is now an executive of a radio station at Phoenix, Ariz.

PUBLIC EYES STEERS, HOGS AS PRICES UP

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 12—The bawling steer and the grunting hog jumped back again into the public spotlight today and there were innumerable charges and counter charges in explanation for the sudden boost in meat prices in livestock markets and in butcher shops.

Average price of steers and yearlings at Chicago yesterday rose to an all-time record high at approximately $28 a hundred pounds according to the department of agriculture. This topped the peak of $25.40 established last October immediately after OPA ceilings were removed. For the first time since March 5 the top reached $30.

Live hogs have not advanced as sharply as beef cattle, the top here yesterday being $24.75 a hundred pounds compared with $30,000 on Feb. 25.

Retail meat prices also advanced during the past several weeks and representatives of butchers in the east blamed the meat packers. In Newark, N. J., butchers threatened to close shop unless prices come down.

"The butchers are helpless and are getting so fed up they're ready to take a vacation," Joseph Vian, president of the Independent Retail Butchers Association of New Jersey, said.

Large packers in Chicago, discounting talk of heavy foreign exports, said advancing meat prices represented an "amazing" domestic consumer demand, particularly for beef. This, they said, also was reflected in the high price for beef cattle at livestock markets.

The agriculture department said meat production last week totaled 317,000,000 pounds, 46 per cent higher than a year ago.

"When the price of meat goes up, the consumer howls, but when the price of livestock goes down we get the howls from the producer," one packer said. "We operate between the devil and the deep blue sea."

ASKS CONTINUANCE OF CREDIT CONTROL

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 12—President Truman recommended today congress pass a bill permitting continuance of controls on consumer credit in peacetime.

Unless congress does this, Mr. Truman said he plans to end the present regulations, based on wartime legislation. These regulations, under executive order, fix the size of down payments and fix the length of time in which the balance due must be paid by installments.

These controls affect purchases of such things as household goods, refrigerators and automobiles.

Mr. Truman's views were stated in a letter to Marriner S. Eccles, chairman of the federal reserve board, which wields the controls on installment-buying credit. Eccles read the letter to the house banking committee.

Eccles has asked the committee to pass a measure giving the reserve board power to continue operation of controls in peacetime.

Mr. Truman's letter said:

"I hope that the congress will enact the necessary legislation to retain restraints upon excessive expansion which results in excessive contraction of consumer credit thereby making for economic instability, reduced production and unemployment.

"If the congress does not see fit to provide the necessary legislative authority, it is my intention to vacate the executive order because I do not believe that such regulations should rest indefinitely in peacetime on emergency or war powers after the congress has had ample opportunity to consider the subject."

CONTROL

talked to reporters after going before Engel's committee in closed session was that efforts would be made to allot some money to all eligible projects by applying reductions to larger ones.

The house appropriation subcommittee heard two Zanesville men argue yesterday in favor of an Army engineer's request for $3,400,000 to continue the Dillon dam construction.

UNION CO. NATIVE DIES

By The Associated Press

RICHWOOD, June 12 — Mrs. Minerva Ann Woodruff Marriott, a native of this community, died at her home in Brooklyn, N. Y., last Friday. The body was cremated and the ashes were sent to the Winter funeral home here for burial in the Marriott lot in Claiborne cemetery this week. Born July 7, 1857, near Richwood, Mrs. Marriott was a daughter of William and Emily Collier Woodruff. Only close relatives here are cousins.

TRUSTEES DISMISS WILBERFORCE HEAD

By The Associated Press

XENIA, O., June 12 — Dr. Charles H. Wesley, 55-year-old president of Wilberforce State university, oldest Negro educational institution in the nation, has been dismissed, effective tonight, by the board of trustees of the African Methodist-Episcopal church.

The board action, taken yesterday, was not publicly announced but was confirmed by Dr. Wesley. The dismissal removed the educator from control of two of the three schools within the Wilberforce system. The university has a total enrollment of about 900.

Students staged a mass demonstration upon learning from Dr. Wesley that he had been dismissed "without charges and with no trial." They burned an effigy of 86-year-old Bishop R. C. Ransom, chairman of the A.M.E's university board, who reportedly opposed Dr. Wesley, the school's president since 1942.

Dr. Charles Leander Hill has been named president to succeed Dr. Wesley Bishop Ransom and Rev. Joseph Gomey announced in telegrams to newspapers.

Dr. Wesley indicated he would continue to head Wilberforce's college of education and industrial arts, which is sponsored by the state of Ohio. Both the theological college and college of liberal arts and sciences are supported by the A.M-E. church.

The university's 90th commencement was scheduled at 10:30 a. m. today.

The action of the board of trustees climaxed a series of controversies between the university and Bishop Ransom who has asked publicly several times for Dr. Wesley's resignation.

The North Central association of Colleges declined to accredit Wilberforce this year, but the association report mentioned Dr. Wesley as "the single point of strength that would warrant continuation of accreditation" for the current year.

'Creative Optimism' Youth Sermon Topic

Another in his series of sermons on the Christian life was presented last night by Rev. James Sutherland of Akron, speaker for the "Christ for Youth" rally meetings being conducted at Calvary Evangelical United Brethren church. His topic was "Creative Optimism." Rev. Dewey Long of Wagram led a song service and sang a solo number. Prayer was offered by Rev. R. W. Faulkner, pastor. Scripture lesson was several verses from the first chapter of the book of First Peter.

"We serve a risen Savior. One thing that the resurrection of Jesus meant to the early Christians was that Jesus was alive for evermore," Rev. Sutherland said.

"The early Christians did not sit down and scratch their heads and try to reason out what had happened when they saw Jesus after His death.

"There are a lot of socalled Christian people today who can go along through life without very much disturbance or persecution about their Christian standing because they do not seem to be very different from the existing order of things. If things are going along very smoothly, beware. You had better take an inventory.

"The biggest reason for believing in the living presence of Jesus Christ is changed lives. I would say that you had better get on the side of Jesus if you expect to be what you ought to be, and if you expect to triumph in the future."

SELF-CLEANING

It Comes Up Shining After Each Rain

SUPERCOVER is a modern self-cleaning House Paint, formulated so that, as time goes by, a microscopically fine white powder forms on the surface. Heavy rains wash this powder away, taking dust and dirt with it leaving the surface clean and white again. This self-cleaning is gradual, so that the wearing qualities of the paint film are not abnormally affected. After years of service it leaves a perfect foundation for the next paint job.

Procter & Gamble's Amazing New

means a new kind of washday for you!

Tide
NO OTHER WASHING PRODUCT KNOWN CAN MAKE THIS STATEMENT
Tide
GETS CLOTHES CLEANER THAN ANY SOAP MADE —yet actually LEAVES COLORS BRIGHTER

IT'S TIDE

. . . you've never used anything like it!

TIDE is the kind of miracle that could happen only in this age of science. Discovered as a result of wartime research, Tide does what's never been done before—washes clothes cleaner than any soap, yet leaves colors brighter! The minute you put Tide in water, you'll know it's a completely NEW product! Tide suds billow up thick and fast—even in hardest water! And those wonder suds look different . . . feel different from any soap you've ever used!

ONLY Tide DOES ALL FOUR!

1. Washes clothes cleaner!

Yes, cleaner than any soap made! Even grimy overalls come cleaner with Tide! Tide leaves clothes free—not only from ordinary dirt—but from gray, dingy soap film as well. Tide leaves no film itself . . . removes all soap film left by former washings! That's why Tide washes cleaner!

2. Actually brightens colors!

By removing every last trace of cloudy soap film, as well as the ordinary dirt, Tide makes soap-dulled, faded-looking colors perk up like magic! Yes, Tide is really safe for dainty washable colors!

3. Never "yellows" white things!

Tide is a whizz for keeping all your white things sparkling white, week after week! Tide can't turn them yellow, no matter how often they're washed or how long they're stored!

4. Gives more suds— Prove it in your dishpan!

Kind-to-hands suds! Faster suds! Longer-lasting suds than any soap in hardest water! Tide cuts grease like magic . . . washes dishes cleaner than any soap! No scum in the water! No greasy ring round the pan! No cloudy film on dishes and glasses! That's why they rinse and dry so sparkling clear—even without wiping!

California Screwballs Have To Be Professionals

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES, June 12—Footnotes on the folks out here:

You have to be odder than odd to attract attention in Southern California, which admits it has more than its share of screwballs.

On one crowded street corner I saw an elderly man with a face like Walt Whitman and a beard like Santa Claus. He was hatless and clad in a pair of shorts and wore his shirt open at the neck.

Hal Boyle

What made me pause and stare, however, were his big pink feet — no shoes or sandals. I'm still country enough to think it unusual to see a man standing bare-footed on a street corner at high noon but nobody else gave him a second glance.

He was "just another character" in a land where they say, "We've got 'em all." He'd have to pass out dollar bills to get any attention here.

Midnight Vignette

It was past midnight in a small lunchroom off Spring street. It was crowded with people whose faces bore the various tired look people get late at night after too good a time.

One shabby old lady with thin gray hair and dirt creases in her neck that stood out like a mud-filled waffle sat alone sipping hot coffee from a cup tightly gripped in both talon-sharp hands. She looked disdainfully at the other late snack-grabbers—dinners all in her eyes—and mumbled in a loud monotone:

"I was born in 1888. I been living in this world more than half a hundred years. That's a long time. But I never smoked or had a drink in my life. And I expect I'll live another fifteen years too."

Nobody paid any attention to her but the counterman.

"You're a good girl, Mary," he said "but you're talking to much."

"Yep, and I'm going to keep right on talking," she said, and went back to her coffee.

Hard times in Hollywood haven't cut out all the studio cocktail parties. I went to one the other night at which the guests were invited to bring ice skates.

It was thrown by Samuel Goldwyn on the set of his picture, "The Bishop's Wife." Everybody came but Goldwyn. Cary Grant and Loretta Young skated arm-in-arm around the rink, and a ringside guest kept saying hopefully, "I bet $5 they both fall on their derrieres."

He lost. They're good skaters.

The guests were more interesting than the movie stars. One lady sported a monocle. I remember also one young man who wore a scotch highball in his right hand and kept running his left hand through black ringlets that cascaded behind his ears like oil flowing down a washboard. He said desperately over and over:

"I've only been in love once in my life and I'd like to see what it's like again."

Keep Skids Greased

There is a strong faith in Hollywood in the old adage that "all that goes up must come down"—particularly people who get big jobs. The current gag about new producers is that the studios use "option paint" to put their names on the office doors.

It's good for 90 days.

Do FALSE TEETH Rock, Slide or Slip?

FASTEETH, an improved powder to be sprinkled on upper or lower plates, holds false teeth more firmly in place. Do not slide, slip or rock. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. FASTEETH is alkaline (non-acid). Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store. —Adv.

Local Junior Legion Nine Comes from Behind To Get 6-6 Tie With Lim

Game Called at End of Fifth To Make Way for OSL Contest

By GEORGE ROBEY

A two-run rally in what proved to be the last inning gave Marion American Legion junior baseball team a 6-6 tie with a Lima American Legion team yesterday evening at Lincoln park, before a crowd unofficially estimated at 2,500 persons.

It was necessary to call it quits at 7:30 to allow warmups for the regularly scheduled Ohio State league game between Marion and Lima.

Marion trailed 6-4 going into the last of the fifth. Hits by Hill, Thomas and Riddle evened things up. Hill got on after rightfielder O'Connor missed a one-handed stab at a drive into his territory. He stole second and third and was brought in by a rap over the infield by Thomas who was called safe on second after the outfielder's error. Riddle then hoisted one over the basepaths and Thomas scampered home.

Comes with 2 Outs

All this occurred after Springer had fanned Ralston and Huddle Kinsey flied to center for the final out.

The Marion team played the tighter ball as only one error was charged, but wildness by pitcher Owens prevented him from getting the win. Lima had their big inning in the fifth too, as a walk, a fielder's choice, and another walk set the stage for Repenhoff to drive in three runs, Springer, O'Connor and Mulcahy scoring. He went to third on a wild pitch by Owens and came home when Ralston missed a throw from Rea, which would have caused the third out.

McGraw started on the mound for Lima and fanned eight, but was taken out with two Marion men down in the third, because it appeared the locals had his number. He allowed four hits. Springer, who relieved him, fanned two and allowed three hits.

First Start

Yesterday's benefit game was the first start for the locals. Sales Chairman Jewell Ralston said he did not have a complete report yesterday as to how many tickets had been sold.

Harding band played before the game and for the flag raising.

After the game Eldon Auker, Detroit hero of the 1935 World Series, spoke of the benefits youthful players receive from the American Legion program, and presented Manager Nelson Irvin of Marion and Manager Fred Bramer of Lima baseballs autographed by Henry Ford II and Babe Ruth.

A sharp fan quipped, when Auker said Ruth was a pretty good ball player, "You ought to know."

Harry Shafter, national field secretary of the American Legion program, told how the program's alumni were now in major league baseball, and W. R. Martin, chairman of the Marion program introduced Duncan Ross, R. C. Purdy, and Carl McGiffin, Ford Motor Co officials connected with the program. Also introduced were Gale Baldwin, sixth Ohio district commander of American Legion, F. Van Gundy, chairman of the sixth district junior baseball program, and other Legionnaires in the stands.

RAY MUELLER RATING AS TOP PINCH HITTER

Doubles with Sacks Filled To Give Reds 5-4 Win.

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, June 12 — Ray Mueller, the Cincinnati Reds' stocky little catcher, rapidly is acquiring a reputation as one of the most dangerous pinch-hitters in the National league.

Called from the bench in the sixth inning in Brooklyn yesterday, he banged out a base-clearing double that gave Cincinnati and comeback pitcher Elmer Riddle a 5-4 decision over the Dodgers.

It was his third straight blow in as many trips to the plate in a pinch role.

Riddle and Harry Gumbert, who relieved him in the sixth, gave the Dodgers 13 hits, including four-for-four by Jackie Robinson. The Reds got only eight safeties off Lefty Joe Hatten, Ed Chandler, Clyde King and Vic Lombardi. Hatten was the loser.

Cincinnati scored first as a base on balls and successive singles by Benny Zientara, Augie Galan and Bert Haas, but Brooklyn tied it as Ed Stanky walked, was sacrificed to second and came home on Duke Snider's double.

The Dodgers went ahead in the fifth as Robinson tripled over short and scored as Snider singled.

Then came the Cincinnati sixth. Galan walked and pulled up at third on Babe Young's double. Eddie Miller was purposely passed to fill the bases but Ray Lamanno waited out four balls to force Galan home. Young was out at the plate as Kermit Wahl grounded to third, then Mueller came off the bench to bat for Riddle and laid on the first pitch for a two-bagger to left.

Johnny Jorgenson's double and singles by Arky Vaughn and Robinson accounted for the Dodgers' last two runs in the eighth.

Could Still Put It Over, Says Young

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, June 12—Despite his 80 years, Cy Young still thinks he can "throw one over the pan."

Cy almost got a chance to prove it when he was honored at "Cy Young day" ceremonies yesterday before the Cleveland Indians-Boston Red Sox game, but Umpire Charlie Berry called "play ball" too quickly so he'll have to try again some time.

However, the first pitcher to be honored in baseball's Hall of Fame replayed many a game yesterday in a gabfest with a group of old timers, most of whom played with or against him during the 22-year period in which he notched 511 victories — a record still unequalled.

Practically all of the 5,000 residents of Newcomerstown, near where Cy lives on a farm, attended the game as Veeck's guests.

RUMOR PERSISTS CARDS FOR SALE

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 12 — Is Sam Breadon actually about to peddle his world champion St Louis Cardinals to a syndicate headed by Postmaster General Robert Hannegan?

The Columbus Dispatch stated flatly yesterday that a deal between the "Hannegan syndicate" and Breadon had progressed to its "final stage."

Hannegan shunned sports writers at St. Louis where he appeared after leaving Washington without disclosing his destination, and Breadon declined comment, a usual policy with him when deals are cooking.

Hannegan's Washington office said that he had denied the story when the question was put to him by telephone.

The Dispatch published its story under a St. Louis dateline and attributed it to an unquestionably reliable and confidential source. It named Edwin S Pauley, Los Angeles millionaire, as one of Hannegan's associates in a "deal that has been completed under closely-guarded secrecy."

The report also said the deal contemplated would include the Cardinals vast chain of farm clubs, including the Columbus Red Birds and Rochester Red Wings.

COY McGEE MAY be the answer to Irish Coach Frank Leahy's prayer for a good spot runner this fall. Last year he dazzled Southern California and should do the same to more opponents this year. Leahy, although assured by most sports experts of another national championship Notre Dame squad, is already moaning about his chances — three months ahead of time.

Marion Harness Horses Do Well at Troy Meet

Entries of three Marion horsemen in the harness race meet at Troy did well in their first starts Monday night.

Dan Earl's Tawawa placed first in one of the events, Lou Wickersham's Joanis was second in another, and George Wright's Dexella finished in show position in his race.

All of the Marion horses are carded for action again this week.

GOLDFDOM'S BIGGEST SHOW BEGINS TODAY

165 Tee Off in 47th U. S. Open; Locke Favored.

By The Associated Press

ST. LOUIS, June 12 — They tee off today in goldfdom's most grandiose show, the 47th United States Golf association open with South African Bobby Locke slightly favored to mow down 165 tense rivals on the short but deceptive St. Louis Country club course.

Mustachioed, 150-pound Lloyd Mangrum was defending his title in this 72-hole blue ribbon scramble, but the fellow to beat obviously was the red-hot importation from Johannesburg, Locke.

Cloudy weather with occasional thundershowers was predicted as the phalanx of golf's big and little shots swarmed over the snug, narrow par-71 course which has plenty of trouble lurking in a 6,532-yard meander.

Locke, 29, winner of $8,437 and four titles in seven U. S. meets within two months, was the favorite although Mangrum, leading P. G. A. money winner Jimmy Demaret and Ben Hogan also got respectable nods from the bet makers.

The quest for a slice of a $10,000 purse (for professionals) and the tradition-steeped championship call for 18 holes today and tomorrow when the field will be trimmed to 60, and a 36-hole windup Saturday.

The field included 10 former champions, but on the sidelines as a spectator and analyst for The Associated Press was Byron Nelson, 1939 winner, who lost last year's open when his caddie accidentally kicked his ball.

Blue Birds Baseball Team Seeks Sponsor

The Blue Birds baseball team, which is composed of players whose average age is under 23 years is looking for a sponsor Captain LeRoy Harvey said today. Dick Crum of Cardington is the manager.

So far this year the team beat Mt. Victory and Galion Moose. Galion Moose defeated Schlairet of Marion last Sunday.

Members of the team, their positions and ages, are Carl Harbolt, 18, third base; James Turner, 23, infield; Lindy, 19 and Beech Walters, 23, infielders, John Crabtree Jr., 22, second base; Jim Harbolt, 22, first base; Bill and Bob England, outfielders, Norman Lord, 19, outfield; Jake Pierce, 18, outfield, Dick Bear, 19 outfield LeRoy Harvey, 23, catcher, Dick Crum, 25, pitcher, Bob Smith 18 catcher; Lee Barber, 32, pitcher; Les Naylor, 21, pitcher; and Jim Ainey, 16, pitcher.

Things Looking Up for Bos With Mickey Harris 'On' Ag

By The Associated Press

Things were looking up for genial Joe Cronin and his B Red Sox today.

Back in undisputed possession of third place, and in the of their longest winning streak in a month, the American champions got a big lift yesterday in the return of lefthander Mickey Harris.

Making his first appearance of the 47 season, the native New York southpaw pitched seven scoreless innings as the Red Sox won their third straight over the Cleveland Indians 3-0.

A's, Tigers Split

The league leading Detroit Tigers divided a doubleheader with the Philadelphia Athletics. The Bengals easily won the first game 7-1 behind the seven-hit pitching of big Al Benton, but were shut out 4-0 in the nightcap by Carl Scheib, a 20-year-old unheralded rookie who was making his first major league start.

Another rookie hurler, Frank Shea of the New York Yankees, had his seven game winning streak broken when Don Kolloway tripled and George Dickey singled in the eleventh inning to give Joe Haynes and the Chicago White Sox a 3-2 win in Chicago.

The Chicago Cubs further tightened the blistering National league pennant race turning back the Boston Braves twice in Boston 4-0 and 5-2 to replace the Braves in third place.

Giants Walk Plank

The front running New York Giants dropped an 8-7 slugfest to the Pittsburgh Pirates in New York.

Ray Mueller's pinchhit double with the bases loaded in the sixth inning drove in three mates and gave the Cincinnati Reds a 5-4 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers at Ebbets' field. Jackie Robinson of the Brooks enjoyed a perfect day with a triple, double and two singles.

The Philadelphia Phillies nosed out St. Louis Cardinals 5-4 in Philadelphia. The Phils jumped on Howie Pollet for all their runs in the first inning after Joe wick had given the Cards a run lead with a home run.

Washington dumped th Louis Browns 4-2 in St. Lou night behind the six-hit pi of Early Wynn.

Cubs Rally in Ninth To Nip Lima, 7-6

By DON C. BURTON

The Marion Cubs are fast becoming the greatest late inning team in the Ohio State league.

They came from behind again last night and took the deciding game of the three game series with Lima, 7-6.

Going into the ninth inning, trailing by one run, Hrelic, Lima hurler developed wildness and passed two men and when two were out Jim Forbes hit a high pop fly in short right that fell for a hit when Matosky, Terrier second baseman, could not hold the ball while running backward.

This allowed Bob Shuford to score from second base with the tying run. After Witowski walked, Ray Hollingshead hit another pop fly to the same spot. This time the ball dropped from the hands of Carl Raucher, Lima outfielder, after a hard run and Mel Nelson who had walked, scored the winning run.

Take 2-Run Lead

The Cubs took a two-run lead in the fourth when an error and a base on balls put Burbrink and Shuford on base. They both scored on a stinging double to left by Melvin Nelson.

Lima took a 5-2 lead in the sixth when John Edington, who had held the Terriers hitless for four innings and allowed a single in the fifth, weakened after he developed a sore finger on his throwing hand.

Six straight hits including a home run by Jack Maisch with two on base was the ammunition used.

Don Slater homered in the seventh to account for the sixth Lima run.

The Cubs got one back in the sixth on a hit by Maxhimer and three base on balls which scored Max. The Cubs got two more runs in the eighth, four base on balls and an error by Haloup produced the runs without a hit.

Witowski Gets Win

Ed Witowski got credit for the victory when he took over in the ninth after Mel Wiebel had walked for Edington in the eighth.

Edington started the game in fine fashion and looked to be regaining his early season form, until he developed finger trouble in the Lima sixth. He walked five and struck out six. Witowski allowed only one hit in his one inning tenure on the mound.

Manager Nelson Burbrink who returned to action last night after league President Frank Colley lifted his suspension yesterday, went hitless in two trips to the plate, walking three times. Bob Shuford went hitless for the first time since joining the club last week, but was on base every time up. He walked three times and got on by means of a fielder's choice the other two trips.

The Cubs go to Richmond tonight for a five day road trip. They play the Roses tonight and tomorrow then move to Muncie for the weekend, including Monday which was to have been an off day. They will be back at Lincoln park Tuesday night.

By The Associated Press

A new contender for the Ohio State league lead emerged today as Dayton climbed into second place, five games behind leading Zanesville.

The Indians capitalized on a three-run double by third baseman Ken Paulus to defeat Springfield's Giants, 5 to 4, last night while Zanesville was winning, 8 to 5, at Newark. The triumph put the Indians in second place, three percentage points ahead of Newark.

A slugfest between two Indiana members of the Ohio circuit wound up with fourth-place

PLAYS THAT COUNT

By FRANK ECK

Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK — Eddie Dyer, the 46-year-old Texan who masterminded the St. Louis Cardinals from seven and a half games back to the National League flag in his first season as a big league manager, recalls two very important plays of the last World Series —plays that he hadn't discussed until now.

"One of them," says Dyer, "was the turning point of the Series. It was just a simple double play and occurred in the first inning of the sixth game. If the Red Sox won that game they won the Series.

"Brecheen (Harry The Cat) fanned Culberson for the first out of the game. Then Pesky and DiMaggio both singled. A walk to Williams filled the bases. Then big Rudy York came to bat and I knew Brecheen was in trouble.

DYER
Cards

"I thought I'd call the pitches to York. I do that in spots. I called for a screwball. York hit it to Kurowski who threw to Schoendienst to get Williams. Schoendienst tossed to Musial to complete the double play. I knew the game was over then and there even though we hadn't yet come to bat."

The Cards got three runs on five hits in the third inning and won the game, 4-1, to send the Series to seven games.

"But you can't always get York on a screwball," says Dyer. "The pitch has to be low. Now in the seventh inning of this same game we fed York a screwball and he led off with a 420-foot triple against the left field fence. The pitch was a little too high."

York scored a moment later on Bobby Doerr's fly to break Brecheen's string of 15 straight scoreless innings.

"The other important play happened in the last game," says Dyer. "Boston had men on first and third with one out. We were leading 4-3 and needed two more outs to win the game and the Series.

"I talked to Harry (Brecheen was pitching in relief) in this ninth inning and we discussed how to pitch to Partee (Boston catcher).

"'Don't worry, Skipper, I'm all right,' said Brecheen.

"Partee popped up on the second pitch and we had only one out to go for the Series.

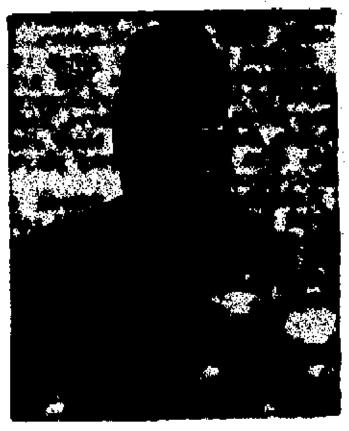
"McBride came in to pinch hit for the pitcher and we knew he could hit. Remember, the tieing run is on third and the winner on first.

"Again I went out to Brecheen and I said, 'Make him hit a screwball.'

"'Don't worry, Skipper,' said Harry.

"McBride hit a low pitch, just topping it toward second base. It was a fairly easy chance but do you know that ball did the darndest tricks? It rolled this way and that way, rolled up Schoendienst's arm and he had to sort of shovel it to Musial on first for the final out and the Series.

"Schoendienst was closer to second but the runner was on the move.



Wrestles Red Devil Tonight On Championship Card

A double main event will hold the spotlight tonight at the Armory when Ali Pasha will try and put a stop to the Red Devil's winning streak. Pasha is one of the roughest and toughest men to come here and his cobra or sleeper hold is well known to all the fans.

If he can get this hold on the Red Devil, his winning streak will be over.

The other main event will see the new American junior heavyweight champ, Billy Rayburn placing his gold belt against the onslaught of Monty LaDue, the rough lumberjack from Canada. Both these matches are over the ninety minute route with the best two out of three falls to win.

A tag team match between four Marion youths, Frank Sloat and Bill Bean against Don Millisor and Don Davenport will open the show at 8:30. Prices (all taxes paid) General 75c. Ringside $1.00 and kids 50c. Call 2745 after six for the best ringside.—Adv.

Employe of Universal Cooler Made Superintendent of Plant in Ontario.

Joseph W. Jenkins, who has been associated with the Universal Cooler plant in Marion since it located here, has been appointed factory superintendent of the Brantford, Ontario plant of Universal Cooler Company of Canada, Limited, according to announcement today by F. S. McNeal, vice president and general manager of Universal Cooler Division of International Detrola Corporation. Mr. Jenkins left today to take over his new position.

Mr. Jenkins was one of several employes who came to Marion when the company transferred its operation here from Detroit seven years ago. He has held various positions with the company since that time. He resides at 975 East Center street. His wife and his daughter, who is a secretary at the Ohio Public Service Co., will remain in Marion for the present. A son, George, is a lieutenant in the U. S. Army stationed with the army of occupation in Germany.

Prior to his association with Universal Cooler, Mr. Jenkins was employed by the Copeland Refrigeration Company of Detroit for 10 years. In his new position, he will work directly under the supervision of D. Robertson, president and general manager of the Universal Cooler Company, Ltd., which is owned by International Detrola Corporation. The Canadian branch manufactures a wide variety of refrigeration products including frozen food display cases, water coolers, farm and home freezers, ice cream cabinets and refrigerated display cases.

Farewell Dinner

Approximately 60 members of the Universal Cooler Division Foremen's club were present at a surprise farewell dinner given in honor of Mr. Jenkins at the Marion Country club Wednesday night. Gene Chenoweth, production manager at the Cooler plant, was master of ceremonies, and Ralph Hunt, works manager, was song leader and accompanist. Dan Medirl.

Brief impromptu remarks complimenting Mr. Jenkins on his new appointment and expressing appreciation for his faithful service to Universal Cooler Division were given by Mr. McNeal and T. S. Pendergast, assistant to the general manager. Numerous other members of the Foremen's club who have worked with Mr. Jenkins for several years also voiced congratulations and best wishes.

Representing International Detrola Corporation was H. J. Nixon, treasurer, who spoke briefly on company policy and pointed out that Mr. Jenkins was not leaving the corporation, just being transferred as the Universal Cooler Company of Canada Limited is wholly owned by International Detrola Corporation, of which Universal Cooler plant is also a division.

Mr. Jenkins was presented a gold wrist watch by his fellow workers and members of the Foremen's club. Harold Roat, president of the club, made the presentation.

MARION MAN BRINGS OLD PAPERS BACK FROM SOUTH

Slave Sales, News of Duel, Included in Reports.

Farm magazines more than 100 years old were brought to Marion by L. A. Edgington of 813 North State street when he returned from a recent visit to Mississippi. Copies of the South-Western Farmer dated Friday, March 3, 1843 and Friday, March 31, 1843, were discovered in the home of friends of Mr. Edgington. Besides visiting in Gulfport and Longbeach, Miss., he crossed over to Texas City, Texas, to view the scene of the recent harbor disaster.

Aside from the antique format of the publications, printed weekly at Raymond, Miss., the chief difference between them and similar papers of today is the advertising, which, besides larger type for headlines, is printed in the same size type as news items. Rarely is the price listed for articles for sale. Rather, the general statement usually is made that stock will be "sold low for cash." Exception is an "improved cotton press" for the moderate price of $250. Price of a uniform is evidently $15, as a notice to Raymond Fencibles by order of the company commandant calls for a required deposit of "fifteen dollars each with. .the treasurer...to be appropriated, by direction of the company, to the purchase of a new uniform."

One "trust sale" ad lists the names of 40 Negro slaves for sale along with land, crops and furniture. "News," aside from being two or three months old, is comparable to that of today. Besides the farm information there are accounts of disaster, flood, homicide, embezzlement and lynching. A brief notice that definitely dates the era, however, is one that reads: 'The N. Orleans papers announce the death of Mr. Waggaman, formerly U. S. Senator from Louisiana. He died of a wound received in a duel with Denis Prieur."

Opening of New Sears Roebuck Farm Store Takes Place Today

A new Sears Roebuck and Co. farm store was opened this morning in the building formerly occupied by the A & P market at [illegible] South Main street. It has been announced the store will remain open until 8:30 tonight. The farm store stock includes a complete line of David Bradley implements, dairy and poultry equipment. Many items are included in stock at the new store which have never been carried in the company's Marion store, the management said.

New implements are expected to be added as they are released for sale after having been tested on the company's farms.

Business hours after today's opening will be from 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily except Saturday when the store will be open from 8:30 a. m. to 8:30 p. m.

Extensive Floor Space

The sales area includes nearly the entire floor space of the large store building. Included among permanent display features are a model dairy barn and a model brooder house where proper temperatures may be maintained. Also on display are the latest types of milking equipment designed to comply with high standards set under the federal milk codes.

The implement repair department will carry parts for David Bradley, McCormick-Deering, International Harvester, Ford-Ferguson, Oliver and John Deere equipment.

Manager and Staff

Hugh Billingsley, former manager of the company's new Dayton store and former Marion farm department manager, has been named manager for the new farm store. Mr. Billingsley supervises a staff of nine. Members of the inside sales force are Gordon Whittier, Mrs. Mary Perry and Donald Hall. The outside sales force includes Don Yeoman, Charles Shearer and Harry Harvey.

Outside service will be handled by D. Davis and James Hammond.

INDUSTRIALS PROP UP STOCK MARKET SAG

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 12—Demand for selected industrials propped the stock market today in the face of slipping tendencies among some pivotals.

Activity declined following a lively opening. Major oil, steel, motor and rubber issues were among those easing slightly. Beverage shares maintained their strength. Near the fourth hour gains and losses were well distributed.

On the offside most of the day were American Telephone, traded ex-dividend at a new 1947 low; U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Chrysler, Goodyear, Anaconda, Westinghouse Electric, General Electric and Sears Roebuck. At higher levels were International Harvester, Du Pont, U. S. Gypsum, Dow Chemical, Norfolk and Western, Schenley, Coca-Cola, National Distillers, Douglas Aircraft, Johns-Manville and Phillip Morris.

And then!

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

"BECAUSE," Mary returned calmly, "I wouldn't believe Uncle Dicky on oath. He's too chivalrous, and too kind. If he thought a lie would cure me of this notion about my mother's being dotty, and passing the daffiness on to me, he'd think up corker that would take the championship."

I knew she was speaking the truth, but I sprang to the rescue of my husband's veracity.

"You know that's not true," I told her severely, "but you're too sick a girl for me to argue the question. Now I don't dare to put this up to your grandmother in the hospital. I don't want her to know anything except that you've come home feeling much better—"

"Poor Granzie!" Mary interrupted quickly. "No, she mustn't know anything. She deserves a better granddaughter than I am."

"You'll be all right as soon as you're—what is it your uncle says?—'hitting on all six cylinders' again."

"What a hopeless optimist you are!" she exclaimed, but I ignored the gibe and put a question to her.

"If you won't believe me or your uncle, and don't want to trouble your grandmother, would you take the word of your Aunt Harriet, or her husband, Dr. Edwin Braithwaite, about your mother?"

Alive With Interest

Her eyes were suddenly alive with interest.

"One thing is certain," she said. "Neither of them would lie about it. But they might brush me off and evade the question, and that would be worse than if they came right out and told the truth."

"Are you willing that I should write them about it?" I queried.

"It won't do any good," she said, with a return of her pessimistic mood. "But I don't care. Go ahead if you want to."

"As soon as we have our session, I'll write to your Aunt Harriet, I'll send it air mail and special delivery. She should have it inside of twenty-four hours. If I dared, I would wire or telephone, but naturally I can't put any queries like that with possible listeners."

Unexpectedly Mary giggled, and my heart lifted at the sound.

Somber Lines

"Can you imagine stately Aunt Harriet's horror if you washed any soiled family linen over the public telephone?" she queried. Then her face set in its somber lines again.

"It's no use, darling Auntie Madge," she said. "I simply don't dare to hope. You'll see—Aunt Harriet's reply will be beautifully vague and evasive, and we'll be just where we were before. Look here, tell me the truth. Did Aunt Harriet tell you that story herself, or did Uncle Dicky and Granzie quote her?"

"They quoted her," I said, reluctantly, "but I am sure—"

"Spare me the 'buts,'" Mary said, "I wouldn't believe Uncle Dicky on a stack of Bibles, if he thought he was sparing the feelings of his family or friends, and Granzie—well, it would be a poor mother who wouldn't lie for her daughter. No, if Aunt Harriet writes and state explicitly that this story you're telling is true—you see you don't know it of your own experience—then I'll believe it. But that doesn't help my memory. That's gone. I know it."

I looked at her steadily.

Deliberate Taunt

"So you're going to admit you're licked before you even begin to fight," I said, deliberately taunting her.

She flushed to the edge of her hair. Then the color receded, leaving her face the color of ashes.

"Do you think I didn't fight out at the sanitarium?" she demanded. "And last night, when I studied those lines? I never worked harder in my life. And it was no use. I broke down every time."

"And went into a tantrum," I probed again, "threw your book across the room and behaved in general like a temperamental first year pupil who can't recognize 'cat.'"

"But, my girl," I finished, "you're going to work now with me. Your uncle would add 'And how!'"
